THE SCHOOL IS OUR HOME

For six hours at least from Monday thru Friday, we are living at school. In short, it is our home. Perhaps we are occasionally thoughtless when it comes to marking desks in this home of ours. It is such a easy thing to do—to sit, listen to the teacher, and mark with a sharp pencil our initials on the desk.

Perhaps if we could bring it closer to home! If we could think that we are sitting at mother's dining room table we would realize that such things just aren't done on furniture, and isn't your desk a piece of furniture?

Occasionally, as I walk down the halls, I see paper on the floor. Again—we wouldn't think of throwing paper in the parlor at home. We do respect property in our school, I know, but occasionally we are thoughtless. Let's check each other when we see someone unconsciously writing on desks. Remember—school is our home!

LINCOLN

I tried to express my feeling toward Lincoln in an article which I entitled "He Too Was Human," but I found that I was powerless, and so I have recopied two verses of a poem written by Edwin Mackham.

"Lincoln, the Man of the People"
Up from log cabin to the Capitol,
One fire was on his spirit, one resolve—

To send the keen axe to the root of wrong,
Clearing a free way for the feet of God,
The eyes of conscience testing every stroke,
To make his deed the measure of a man.

He built the rail-pile as he built the State,
Pouring his splendid strength thru every blow;
The grip that swung the axe in Illinois
Was on the pen that set a people free.

So came the Captain with the mighty heart,
And when the judgment thunders split the house,
Wrenching the rafters from their ancient rest
He held the ridgepole up, and split again

The rafters of the Home. He held his place—
Held the long purpose like a growing tree—
Held on thru blame and faltered not at praise—

Towering in calm rough-hewn sublimity,
And when he fell in whirlwind, he went down
As when a lordly cedar, green with boughs,
Goes down with a great shout upon the hills,
And leaves a lonesome place against the sky.

Seniors Make Booklets

Theme is Shakespearean Plays

The Seniors completed their Shakespearean book reports Monday. The reports were in booklet form and were done very attractively in bright colored letters. Some of the plays reported on were "Julius Caesar," "As You Like It," and "Merchant of Venice." The purpose of the report was to learn more about Shakespeare, the most famous English writer.

Hi Herald Cub Interviews Singer

Coretha Mead Interviews Mr. Ratliff

A Hi Herald reporter interviewed Mr. Ratliff, one of the Utica Jubilee Singers after the singers had given their concert on Friday, Feb. 3rd, in the auditorium.

The reporter, member of the Hi Herald staff, and the other students of Andover High School are very grateful to Mr. Ratliff for giving his time so graciously. The interview follows:

When did the Jubilee Singers organize and how many were in it at that time?

The Jubilee organized in 1926 and there were five members. Two of the original members are still in it. Of course, there are some singers always working to be in group one, which is the group you heard this evening.

What song or songs do you like to sing the best?

I can't say for the group, but personally I like songs pertaining to the human side of life.

What song do you dislike most?

That is hard to say, but I believe I like all songs.

What songs do you think that your audiences enjoy the most?

Of the spiritual songs, I believe they enjoy "Swing Low" of the plantation songs, "Old Black Joe" and of the spiritual songs "Kentucky Babe."

What is the longest distance you have had to travel in one day to put on a concert?

The longest distance I believe, was from a town in Indiana to a town in Idaho, a distance of 810 miles. This distance was covered after an afternoon concert in Indiana to the next afternoon in Idaho for a concert.

What is your estimation of the number of audiences you have entertained?

I have often wondered about that but we didn't have a vacation until two years ago. Since then we have had four months vacation a year.

The audiences averaged about two a day, and about 700 people in each audience.

Have you had any humorous experiences connected with your singing?

We have had many experiences that would appear humorous only to us. One experience happened about 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning after we had finished a concert. We were in Mississippi, where there were gravel roads. The driver said that he was tired and asked another man to drive for him. Meanwhile one man had gone to sleep. They went on for five or six miles when they saw a road sign. They stopped to back the car up to read the sign. Instead of backing up, the driver stepped on the gas and when the car came to a stop it had overturned in the ditch. The driver didn't wait to try to open the door but kicked out the windshield. They all climbed out except the one who had been asleep. The others were calling: "Come on out." The one asleep finally said, "Come out where?" When he went to sleep everything was all right, but when he awakened he was facing the lighted dome light of the car, trying to figure out what was the matter.

Richburg and A.H.S. Meet Tonight

The Richburg High School basketball team will meet the Andover High School squad on the local court tonight (Thursday).

Richburg defeated Andover once before this season by a narrow margin. The game proved to be somewhat of a dismal affair as the Andover team led by a comfortable margin at one time, only to lose this lead to the scrappy Richburg squad in the last period of the game.

However, the local boys are certain that this game will not be like the other. Andover needs this game and will be after it with a fighting spirit.

This will be the eleventh game of the year. So far the locals have won eight of ten. Plan to see the purple and white take their ninth win tonight (Thursday)!

Cornell Leads Intramurals

Cornell is leading the Class A intramural boys basketball league by a comfortable margin. To date they have won six and lost but two, to lead by a percentage of .750. Colgate is second with a percentage of .571. Following is the standing of the teams in Class A:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Cornell	6	2	.750
Colgate	4	3	.571
Syracuse	4	4	.500
N. Y. U.	1	6	.142

In Class B, Penn State and Rutgers are tied for first with an average of .500 for each. Following are the standings:

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Penn State	1	1	.500
Rutgers	1	1	.500
Columbia	0	0	.000

Utica Jubilee Singers Greet Assembly

The Andover High School students from grades five thru high school were entertained by the Utica Jubilee Singers on Friday morning, Feb. 3, in the auditorium.

The group of colored singers, five in number, represent a negro school in Utica, Mississippi. The quintet opened the program by singing two numbers: One Morning Soon and Rise, Shine, Give God the Glory.

The quartet sang: "The Old Ark Amavarin." "I'll Be Ready When the Great Day Comes," "All God's Chillun Got Shoes." Mr. Saxton then sang two solos, accompanied at the piano by Miss Evelyn Lloyd, Andover High School music instructor. The solos were "Danny Boy," and "Until."

The quartet came back to sing "Climbing Up the Mountain," "My Old Kentucky Home," "Chicken," "Kentucky Babe."

Mr. Ratliff then gave two readings: "People Will Talk," "Everyday Religion."

The singers then gave the following songs as encores: "Do You Call That Religion?" "Shortnin' Bread," "Ain't It a Shame to Make Love on Sunday?"

Before introducing the singers, Principal Glenn Bretsch discussed some details of administration with the pupils. Following the program the assembled students returned to their classes, grateful for the opportunity to be present at such an interesting assembly.

Tips on Radio Tuning

Woodbury Presents Tyrone Power

For all of Tyrone Power's fans, Woodbury presents "Ty" practically every Sunday over WEBR at 9 p. m. Last Sunday night he was co-starred with Ida Lupino in "And Ensnare Complications." He puts forth his best acting ability and you are sure to enjoy the play.

Tomorrow night, Madeline Carroll, British and Hollywood screen star, has been cast in "The Green Goddess" in the "Playhouse." This program will be presented over WEBR at 9.

The Radio Daily's coast-to-coast poll returned a CBS winner in the dance orchestra group—Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadians.

For latest current tunes, listen to "The Hour of Charm" over WBEN on Mondays at 9. The new songs are played in true swing style and the slower ones are played in true

Around A. H. S. With C. Coryell

Don't forget the Junior dance to-morrow night.

Mr. McGee has in his care, a group of pictures of the Freshmen and Sophomores and some of the old grads. Better take a look at them. Did we ever look like that?

Some of the French students drew some queer looking people last week. It was to help them to learn the parts of the body in French so the shape didn't matter too much.

The Latin students have subscribed for a few issues of a very interesting paper printed in Latin. One of the articles about Grace Allen was on the board the other day, but I had to have Miss Barrett translate it for me.

What! Some recent "Life's" in the library!

"Gyp," "gyp," seemed to be the cry last week. First we didn't have the Alfred game, then the Jubilee singers couldn't get here on Thursday and then to top it all off, we couldn't get a ball game with Canis-teo.

The Utica Jubilee Singers made up for all the disappointments. We would have been glad to listen to them all day.

Now all the Hi Herald for this school year are in order, thanks to Coretha Mead, who made a huge booklet for them. I guess Mr. Bretsch was glad to get them out of his car after the A. C. S. P. A. meeting.

Glee Club is on Fridays now. Well maybe we can get used to it. It's all right to have intramurals on Monday.

"Bud" and "Louie" are doing remarkably well to remember that the third and fourth periods have been changed around.

A nice compliment Carolyn. Louise Dodge said a picture of Bette Davis on a cover of "Life" looked just like you.

We're glad Mrs. Bretsch is getting better. I know she would like to receive letters from anyone. Her address is Box 33, Elmira Heights.

That song puzzle of Dolores' was good. Let's have another.

Just to show that one has to be on the Hi Herald staff in order to write articles for the paper, Rosemary Lynch wrote a nice article for this paper about the Senior booklets.

The Freshmen are learning to use the library for a place for reference work as well as the magazines, "The Popular Educator" in Room A.

For the Science Class, which has been studying airplanes, Inez Kemp wrote an excellent piece of literature about airplanes, the airplane models that have been used are just as interesting, if not more so, to the boys in the physics class.

The English IV class seems to be really enjoying "She Stoops to Conquer."

Grade News

Safety is the Best Policy

The fifth graders have this piece of advice well in hand. They drew a scene, typical of a winter day, illustrating the danger of ice-skating. For with the mysterious powers of day and night, the ice changes unknown to us and we must realize this before it is too late. Don't dash out on the ice even if it does look ten feet thick!

Little Red Riding Hood is coming to town with the eighth graders and their annual marionette program.

The sixth grade intends to celebrate our next national holiday by a radio program, under the direction of Harold Joyce, called "Abe Lincoln's Birthday Party."

The Three E's Of Safety

The following article is an excerpt taken from the three E's of Safety found in the Feb. 6th Weekly News Review, and it seemed worthwhile to bring it to the attention of the student body:

Lieutenant F. M. Krend, director of Northwestern University traffic Safety Institute says if all cities adopted three weapons called the three E's, about 15,000 to 20,000 American lives could be saved every year.

The first "E" stands for Enforcement, he says. It means that the police are on the job to investigate each accident. The second "E" stands for Education. It forces education upon people responsible for accidents by "sentencing" them to traffic safety schools. The third "E" stands for Engineering and means that bad crossings, bad lights, etc., are eliminated.

By these means, Saginaw, Mich., last year reduced its fatal motor accidents by 63 per cent, showing that traffic accidents can be prevented if the three E's are used.

Grade Honors Posted

The following pupils earned places on the honor rolls for the fourth marking period recently ended. In determining honor rolls for this period, an additional requirement is made: first honor pupils may have no mid-year test mark below 85, and second honor pupils must have all test marks 80 per cent or above: —A-H-S—

Magazine to Be Published

The pupils of the French III class are making a French magazine. The title of it is "L'Etoile," which means the Star. It is to be written entirely in French. The first issue will be published this month for the members of the class on the order of a popular magazine. The first issue will be dedicated to our former teacher, Miss Killigrew.

The editor is Leo Nobles; business manager, Syble Winchell; humor editor, Rosemary Lynch; literary director, Kaliope Karcanes.

It will consist of at least twelve pages including reviews of books, editorials, humor, society and weekly events.

It is hoped that in this way the class may develop a certain style of their own in writing French.

First Edition of Junior Hi Herald To Be Published

The seventh grade room is planning to have their first edition of Junior Hi Herald published this week. The newspaper is to be covered by the seventh grade students. The object for doing this is chiefly because they want to have the experience of writing for the Senior Hi Herald.

The seventh graders are planning to cover the most important topics of Junior Hi School, such as grade news, faculty facts, humor, editorial, around junior hi, sports, guess who, original poems and interviews.

There are a lot of volunteers for special duties for the first edition of the Junior Hi Herald.

Freshmen Make Airplane Booklet

An abundance of reference material has been compiled by the members of the Freshmen class in general science period during the past week. When this material has been collected it will be put together in the form of a booklet. There one can read the whole history of the airplane even to far back as the story of Icarus and Daedalus.

High School Honor Roll Posted

The following pupils earned places on the high school honor rolls for the fourth marking period. In addition to the regular requirements for first honors a pupil must have all mid-year test marks 85 per cent or above and for second honors no test marks may be below 80.

First Honors:

Thelma Ahrens, Pearl Goodridge, Betty Jo Ludden, Eleanor Northrup, Victor Oakes, Jean Rogers, Stanley Ruger.

Second Honors:

Charlotte Coryell, Dolores Farwell, Coretha Mead, Leo Nobles, Kaliope Karcanes, John Dean, Paul Ryan.

Senior Interview

Hello, Dorothy, I came to interview you for the school paper. Have you the time now?

Surely, I have as much time now as I will have.

You went to a district school up to the time you entered seventh grade, didn't you?

Yes, I attended the Dean school, which is District No. 9.

Could you see any advantages of this school to the Andover High School?

Well, at the time I attended it I could because there was more time to play. Of course that meant more to me then than it does at present. Then, also, there was the advantage of getting more attention from the teacher because there was an average of nine pupils in the school under the direction of one teacher and she could really give us more of her time.

I have often heard people refer back to their early school days, when they had such good times and new adventures. Can you recall anything special that stands out in
