Three New York State Groups Against Patman Tax

Recent tax action by three leading New York farm organizations has aligned the state's fruit, vegetable and potato growers with farmers throughout the nation in condemning anti-chain store legislation, according to a survey released by H. J. Evans, secretary of the New York Co-operative Seed Potato Association.

Farm opposition in New York to state and national taxes which would cripple or destroy farmer's chain store marketing outlets, already expressed in protests by individual growers, led to the adoption of resolutions by the New York State Horticultural Society, the Empire State Potato Club and the New York State Vegetable Growers Assn.

Adoption of these resolutions was in line with action by the National Grange, the American Farm Bureau Federation, and the National Co-operative Council. At their convention, these organizations adopted resolutions denouncing punitive and discriminatory taxes designed to destroy or unduly obstruct any channel of distribution.

ADMIRAL RICHARD BYRD

The Navy Couldn't Use Him, But He Is Now Our Most Famous Admiral

In 1900, a little boy down in Winchester, Virginia, was keeping a diary. He had been inspired by the stories of Admiral Peary's heroic struggles to reach the North Pole; so in the autumn of 1900, this little 12-year-old boy wrote in his diary, "I have decided to be the first man to reach the North Pole."

Many years later, the boy who wrote that decision in his diary actually did reach the pole. In fact, he was the first man ever to fly over the North Pole, and he was also the first man ever to fly over the South Pole. His name, of course, is Richard Evelyn Byrd.

Commander Byrd declares that the mighty ice fields in the South Polar regions are slowly receding, and he believes that, some day, millions of acres of land, now smothered beneath slow, grinding glaciers, may prove to be extremely valuable; and so he is determined to plant the Stars and Stripes on that land and claim it forever in the name of the government of the United States.

Byrd's life is an inspiring illustration of a boy who had an undying ambition to do big things and who did them in spite of innumerable obstacles.

First, he wanted to travel and see strange lands. And by the time he was 14 years of age, he had traveled all the way around the world—and he had done it all by himself. He came back home, and went to college; and in college, he devoted a lot of time to boxing, wrestling and football.

In doing so, he broke a bone in his foot, crushed his knee and made himself so lame that the Government retired him from the Navy at 28 years of age as physically unfit for service.

He said a man didn't have to stand up to fly a plane; he could do that sitting down. He could do that ever if he did have a lame foot and a broken ankle. So he started out to become an aviator and he succeeded, in spite of the fact that, while he was learning, he crashed twice and once he hit another plane head-on.

Thirsting for aerial adventure, he longed to fly over the frozen wastes

AROUND OUR HOUSE

FOR LONGER-LIVED RUGS!

The life of a rug or carpet depends a great deal on the kind of care it receives.

"Keep rugs clean," is the first rule of rug care. Lint, stray threads and ravelings are unsightly but not harmful; dangerous dirt is the sharp, glass-like grit, brought in on shoes. The coarse, sandy particles settle into the fibres of the rug and under action of shoes and moving furniture, cut like small knives at the base of the fibres, and in time leave warp and web bare. Rugs that must withstand heavy traffic should be cleaned carefully and often with a vacuum cleaner.

"Give them moisture," is the second rule of rug care. Too dry atmosphere of many homes dries out rugs and causes them to fuzz and shed. To forestall this, convenient humidifiers, available at a reasonable cost, or a pan of water placed on or behind the radiator, register or stove, should be used to moisten the air. Some authorities suggest that in homes heated to 70 degrees Fahrenheit, as much as a gallon of water should be used in such containers every day.

New rugs fuzz because almost always they are delivered from a stock warehouse very dry. Usually "fuzzing" will stop when the rug absorbs enough moisture. Don't try to prevent the fuzzing by digging out the short fibres or loose tufts with a heavy broom or suction cleaner, as this may sacrifice years of ultimate wear, says the New York College of Home Economics.

Rugs and carpets look and wear best when they are swept in one direction. Rubbing a cleaner back and forth harshly over the pile bends and wears the fibres, the same as bending heavy furniture over it, changing the position of the rug, and that of the furniture on the rug, and that of the sections of the rug, chance to rest, and it equalizes

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes fail in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove uric acid, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nationwide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!
