DON'T MISS THE FUN

Isn't it grand out? That has been the conversation in the halls and on the streets. We're happy because spring has introduced itself to us. It is indeed well worth while to think of the warm weather ahead and Regents. Perhaps our best "bet" would be to work especially hard in classes and in study halls. Then, with a free mind, we can plan picnics, hikes and outdoor gatherings with our friends. Truly with summer in the air, life is too short not to make the best of every sunny day. Why not some excursion in the woods in search of flowers? Why not some exploratory trips on old country roads? There is no way of enjoying life more than by getting inquisitive about nature and life around us. Andover is only a small town, but it has many unexplored, adventurous spots for us to find. Why not enjoy the gifts nature brings to us in the Spring before it's too late!

"Are you sure you can cut your meat?" she asked, after watching his struggles.
"Oh, yes," he replied, without looking up from the plate, "we often have meat as tough as this at home."

Three Typing

Students Eligible For Certificates

Commercial Students Make Booklets

Three typing students are now eligible for their speed certificates. They are Syble Winchell with 35 words and five mistakes; George Greenan, with 33 words and four errors, and Ardean Matison with 33 words.

Many of the shorthand students have received letters from their shorthand correspondents. These are George Joyce, Kaliopy Karcanes, Catherine Lynch, Mary Mesler, Lucille Joyce, Katherine Barber and Donald Hardy. The letters were written from Texas, North Carolina, Nebraska, California, Minnesota, West Virginia and Ireland. George Joyce is the only one who has received a letter from a foreign country.

Both typing classes made poem booklets last week. This work was different and proved very interesting to do. The students typed designs on the covers. Some of the designs were original and very unique.

This week the typing classes spent part of their time working on material for typing booklets for the exhibit.

Last Friday the shorthand class commenced having a ten word test at the beginning of each period. Their marks are registered on a graph. Red stands for the perfect papers; blue the 90 and 95 per cent papers, and a pencil mark for the 80-85 per cent papers. No marks are registered below 80. Who will reach the goal first with the most number of red marks after their name?

Baseball Season

Opens

The local high school baseball team will make its first appearance this year against Scio on the local field Friday afternoon. Andover hasn't played this team in two years. Scio then defeated Andover by a 2-1 count.

On the following Tuesday the team will play Belmont on the local field.

This year there is a considerable number of veterans back. This ought to make a good team. In the lineup the following will be included: Dolan, Hardy, Gath and McAndrew, infield; Perry, Lehman, and Joyce outfield, and Greene pitching. With the loss of Billy Dugan, the team was somewhat revised. Briggs has been substituted for his position.

Around A. H. S.

With C. Coryell

"Who's afraid of the big bad wolf?" Not the Eighth graders, that's sure. Everyone had a splendid time at the Glee Club dance.

And to think that Ernie Burdick's swollen eye was finally caused by his following his nose.

Sunday was certainly a nice day for walking. Ask most of the A. H. S. students.

George Joyce reports a good time last week-end, after visiting Montie Greene.

Gout! Gout! What is it was the question a few days ago in Home-making class.

Work for Senior-class book is coming in well.

I couldn't help but notice that Dot Sweet likes to walk in the wind.

George had a very interesting letter from a pen pal. We'd like to see her picture, George.

It's odd that when applying for entrance in a normal, one takes a test, and when applying at some universities one doesn't.

Funny how long it takes for some report cards to come back.

I wonder why all the sudden interest in the World Almanac.

The wheel about France has gotten the economic geog. class into a job of making some themselves.

Usually there is a nice bulletin board in the library. There wasn't any at the first of the week.

"Sig" shirts or jackets are popular in other places, why not here? Nancy likes her's O. K.

Pretty soon Miss Cappuccilli will have us dignified Seniors writing poetry.

If the Seniors never get any mail before, we're getting it now. It's queer how so many schools want us to come there.

If any of us get sick and want to be fed, call some of the girls who take homemaking.

Bill Dugan is out of baseball now. Too bad, he'll be missed.

All the teachers are giving us work for the exhibit which will be coming along before we know it.

It keeps Miss Cappuccilli busy remembering to wind up her little clock on her desk. At ten minutes of two, the clock said twenty minutes after six.

French III Class

Students Write Autobiographies

Je suis ne and so forth—so started the autobiographies that the French III students have just completed in the form of booklets. They will probably be used for the school exhibit.

Some very interesting material can be gathered from reading these. Kaliopy Karcanes has many pictures in her booklet. If you were in the fourth grade with Kaliopy you can see yourself as you were then. She has a picture of that grade. Some change!

Did you know that Leo lives in the same house he was born in? He was a pretty good boy (according to his story). Rosemary Lynch weighed nine pounds when she came to Hornell. The favorite trick of Syble Winchell was to run away.

Probably most of you students are acquainted with these French cleves. But if you want to read something really good, try to see one of these written reports.

Adult Homemaking

Class Starts

The first meeting of the adult Homemaking Class will be held Thursday, April 27, at the Home-making department of Andover High School at 7 o'clock. Anyone who would like to belong to this class but has not as yet registered, may do so at the meeting.

Miss Wood, Homemaking teacher, plans to attend a conference of the homemaking teachers in Hornell, Friday. Summer employment of the homemaking teachers will be the topic of the meeting.

Wife: "Dear, I saw the sweetest little hat downtown today."
Husband: "Put it on; let's see how you look in it."

A small boy stood in the entrance to the cobbler's shop watching the man at work.

"What do you repair boots with, mister?" he suddenly asked.

"Hide," replied the cobbler sharply.

"Er-r, eh?" asked the boy.

"I said hide," replied the cobbler.

"What for?" the boy insisted, somewhat surprised.

"Hide! The cow's outside!" sighed the man.

"Don't care if it is. Who's afraid of a cow, anyway?" said the youngster defiantly.

Shorthand Student

Receives Letter From Ireland

George Joyce, a member of the Shorthand Class, received a letter from an 18-year-old girl in Ireland. This is the first letter received by any of the students from abroad. Letters have been received from boys and girls thruout the United States. The Hi Herald has consented to print any interesting letters. The letter written in English follows:

Garry lastle
Athlone,
Westneath, Ireland

Dear George:

Altho I have been expecting a letter from a new pen friend, yours was an unexpected pleasure. When you hope for something and it comes true, it is much different. This is the way with your letter.

I will first tell you about myself. I am five feet three inches tall, have dark brown hair and grayish green eyes. My nose is inclined to be long but flat at the end. I take a size 7 1/2 in shoes.

I live one mile from Athlone. Both sides of my family have lived in this district for three generations. Athlone is situated on the River Shannon, the longest river in the British Isles. The population of Athlone is 8,000. In my next letter I will tell you about the factories and the different kinds of buildings.

Athlone is situated in the center of Ireland. Except for a row of sandhills running thru the country, it is flat. We have many small streams which eventually end in the Shannon. I have been educated at Our Lady's Bower Day School. At 16 I left to attend the Technical School. Here I study shorthand, typing, bookkeeping, business study, English and Irish. These are essential to a stenographer which is my goal. I have received the O. G. A. certificate in shorthand.

At school we played very few games, one of which was lamergie but this faded out. I have played hockey and tennis at day school but this was also given up. However, I indulge extensively in cycling and I enjoy it.

Petrol, a form of gasoline, is sold for about 30 cents in American money. Only the rich class can buy and run an automobile.

The majority of the people in Athlone are Irish, but there are Belgians, English, Jew and a few Scotch people. There are two stories in Athlone employing 1,000 people. Besides these are bankers, electrical work board employees and shopkeepers. Just outside of town, dairy and oral farming is the chief occupation of the people. Vegetable crops grown extensively. I think the people of Ireland live much like the people in your town. Many have gardens which supply their needs.

I belong to the Catholic church here in Athlone. My father has been dead for 12 years. My mother is alive and runs a dairy farm a little general farm. I am a twin and the youngest of a family of 16. My twin sister's name is Maud. The names of the children starting with the oldest is: James, Frank, Katherine, William, Tom, Mae, Gertie, Nancy, Benny, Mona and Paddy. My family belongs to the middle class in this country. I am led to believe that the class distinction is not here than in America. Dublin is the capital of Ireland and the densely populated section. The country is unequally divided as a result of British rule. I will tell you about this in my next letter.

We live in a two-story house, the kitchen has a hearth with a turf fire. We have a radio but also we live so near Athlone the electric invention is still one-fourth of a mile from reach. We all have bicycles and my mother.

In this letter I have just told you on the main parts of my life. My next letter I will explain in detail about the country and people.

Have you theatres, arenas, halls or open air dancing? I tell me what type of dancing have in Andover so I can come to it with that in Ireland.

Your letter took 14 days to reach me. I will be waiting to hear from you and I remain

Your friend,

P.S.—My full name is Angela Bernadetta Muller.

In the future any letters received by the shorthand students about in this country that will interest readers of this paper will be published.
