LEARN WHILE YOU'RE YOUNG

"Learn while you're young" has become the motto of the Sophomores and Juniors, who are fostering a moon-hour dancing class in the gymnasium where members of both the classes are learning to dance. A large representation was present at the second attempt, doubling the first attendance. By the event of the Junior Prom there will be "smooth" dancers aplenty and prospects should go up.

A Chance in a Life Time

Today is June 1! Just eighteen more days and exams start. In short, it would seem that in 18 days it is the beginning of the end. But I believe we are mistaken if we think the end of our courses is on any date in June, 1939, or even in June 1960. We have the choice of a life time right now!

How do "I get that way?" Is it not true that in history, math, or whatever subject you have covered the actual material—all the new points have been learned! Now in these last two weeks you can tie up all those loose threads. No longer need you wonder about what happens next. Now you can test your memory and see how vital you can make all that you have learned this year.

Cram if you must! But cram in order to gain help for your future in 1960 as well as 1939.

Future Hi Herald Editor To Be Selected

Vivian Conner and Betty Greene are candidates.

A contest between Betty Greene and Bernadine Briggs and Vivian Conner and Veronica Lynch is being waged during the next two publications of the Hi Herald to select the best couple for the position of editor and business manager.

Betty Greene and Bernadine Briggs will take complete charge of the June 8th edition; Vivian Conner and Veronica Lynch will edit the issue of June 15th. These two publications will be judged by the Hi Herald members in order to select the Hi Herald managers for the next year. The work of these people on the Hi Herald staff during the past year will also be taken into consideration.

Andover Loses To Wellsville

The best game of the year was played last Tuesday at Tullar Field, between Andover High and Wellsville high at Wellsville. This was a league game and Andover lost to the count of 1-0 in extra innings. Both teams played good ball and Wellsville pushed across the only and winning run in the last half of the eighth.

Hambridge on the mound for Wellsville had few worries and the team failed to hit his offerings for but two safe hits. Lehman kept his six hits well scattered but in the eighth they scored their run on an error, two hits and a walk. Both pitchers were very effective, Lehman having 11 strikeouts and Hambridge 10.

Greene and Hardy were the only Andover members to get a hit, Greene with a double and Hardy a single.

Friendship Here Friday

Possibility of Two Games With Troupsburg

The last league game of the year will be on the local field Friday after school. The luckless Friendship team has lost all its league games this year. In a previous encounter, Andover took a 6-1 decision. Coach McGee is trying to arrange two games with Troupsburg, to wind up the season. Troupsburg has had a successful season and is reported to be unusually good.

Juniors Expect Large Crowd at Junior Prom

Johnny Fitzgerald's Orchestra to Furnish Music Tomorrow Night

Due to the large crowd that attended the Senior ball and due to its success, the Juniors are expecting the gym filled to capacity tomorrow night at their annual Junior Prom. The admission will be one dollar per couple with dancing from 9 to 1.

Music will be furnished by Johnny Fitzgerald's orchestra.

Humor

G. Dolan: "I don't think I should get zero in this exam."

Mr. McGee: "I know it; but it's the lowest mark there is."

Miss Cappuccilli: "What is a cay-us?"

Roland S.: "A dead animal."

Mrs. McGee: "Why is Zanzibar noted for its monkeys?"

Irene L.: "The British governor lives there."

Miss Barrett: "Paul, can you tell me what a hypocrite is?"

Paul: "Yes, ma'am; it's a boy who comes to school with a smile on his face."

Mr. Holmes: "What is the difference between quinine and canine?"

Charles G.: "Quinine is the bark of a tree and canine is the bark of a dog."

First Stude: "I see you're getting better marks lately. How's 'at?"

Second Dope: "My dad's on a trip so I'm doing all my work myself."

—Junior Prom Friday—

"I've heard that Mr. Jones walks in his sleep."

"Fancy, and they with two automobiles."

Senior Ball Shows Profit

Treasurer Announces Profit of Twenty-eight Dollars

Twenty-eight dollars, which has been added to the Senior Class treasury, was clear profit from the Senior ball held on May 19th. After receiving all advance sale ticket money and paying all the expenses, Leo Nobles, class treasurer, announced this profit which will help to pay for the usual graduation expenses of the class as a whole.

Around A. H. S. With C. Coryell

It was very nice that Miss Trenkle came to our school exhibit. We would like to see her often. Think of an A. H. S. student being the vice president of the A. C. S. P. A. Betty Jo Ludden is.

Junior Prom Friday evening. Don't forget it. Patronize it as well as you did the Senior ball!

The Juniors are having very novel decorations for the Prom. Quite different from other dance decorations.

There are a goodly number of high school students appearing in the piano recital.

Today is the last day for getting history book reports in. Ask Buck Wahl what an acute angle is.

Twenty-eight dollars clear profit from the Senior ball.

One to zero as the score of an eight inning game between Andover and Wellsville!

A vacation never came at a better time. This one was just when we needed it to catch up.

Congratulations to Mary Elaine Baker and Elaine Pope on being the two high honor students in the eighth grade.

The Social Security Act was thoroughly discussed in one of our last week assemblies.

Accounting and secretarial work have taken on a new meaning to some of us after seeing the pictures of wild animals in Africa.

A Hi Herald party tonight; it will probably rain, but there's no need of being pessimistic.

Neronica Lynch celebrated a birthday on Saturday.

Mrs. Stoll and Miss Elliott both had birthdays in May.

We've all been glad to have the opportunity to read the letters that the shorthand class has been receiving.

The trial editor and business managers will take over the Hi Herald for the next two issues. It will give Teresa and Don a rest.

Letters to Hi Herald Adviser

Dear Adviser:

I asked a girl to go to the Junior Prom with me. After I had asked her, some unexcused conditions arose that made it impossible for me to take her.

I would like to know if I should I just tell her that I would be unable to take her.

Yours truly, J.E.

Dear J. E.:

The proper thing to do would be to tell her so that she may have time to accept another invitation. Also, you may ask her if she would like you to arrange for another person to take her.

Your Hi Herald Adviser.

Recently I was introduced to some of my classmates' parents. Should I have shaken hands with them or just say "How do you do" or something to that effect?

X. Y. Z.

Dear X.Y.Z.:

No, it is not necessary to shake hands. Perhaps it is a little old fashioned and out of date for high school students. Leave that idea to the business man and other folks. Be natural. Say "How do you do" or something to that effect. Just be courteous and act your natural self.

Your Hi Herald Adviser.
