Allegany Non-Wheat County Committee Says

Allegany county will be considered a non-wheat county under the Wheat Program of the 1940 Agricultural Conservation Program. The State committee has determined the counties within the state that have 50 or more farms on which wheat allotments of eight acres or more were determined under the 1939 Agricultural Conservation Program. The counties thus determined are designated as wheat counties.

As Allegany county did not have 50 farms with wheat allotments of eight acres or more, it will be considered a non-wheat county.
