I SAY, BOYS—

I'm just "one of the girls" around good old Andover Central School, and I'd like to talk to you boys on certain subjects. Most of you boys play basketball, baseball and football. You go out for these sports because they're for he-men; you know, develops the muscle and make big shoulders and chests. We girls think that's pretty nice, but why don't you go into something else besides sports? For instance, newspaper writing would be interesting. I can just hear you say you haven't time and you wouldn't know what to write anyway. What about sport write-ups? Bill O'Toole and Lynn Brown are great sportswriters who find time to write and earn money, too. Newspaper writing might come in handy in your future life.

Another point is the mixed chorus. I know you'll say you can't sing but I know some day you might "thank your lucky stars" that you know how to sing. When you go to a party there's always someone suggesting a song. Everyone will lose his otherwise good opinion of you if he sees you standing there with your mouth clamped shut. Don't be embarrassed, either. It is most likely the person next to you has a worse voice than you.

Another item I have in mind is dancing. Don't you few who dance have a lot more fun than you did before you learned? I know there's some of you who say you positively cannot dance and don't like to anyway. How do you know you don't like it if you've never tried it? Don't be ashamed to get out on the floor and try. Everyone who dances has gone thru the same experience, so they won't laugh or comment on your somewhat clumsy antics. You will feel so proud when you can dance with everyone without stepping all over their feet. When a Fred Astaire movie is playing, those of you who insist you don't like dancing, don't get up and leave the theatre, do you? No, of course you don't, and I've a sneaking suspicion that you enjoy watching Fred Astaire go into his dance and wish you knew a little bit of dancing so you could show off in front of the gang.

I know sports are swell but how about it, boys, won't you try something else in the meantime?

I SAY, GIRLS—

As a representative of the boys of Andover Central School, I don't think the girls are so active in the field of sports as they might be or should be. Of course, the girls are not expected to play baseball or football, but it is no disgrace to see girls playing softball or basketball. The girls of Andover Central School used to have a basketball team and a softball team which played other schools. Since those girls have graduated the girls filling their places have not taken as great an interest in those sports. The reason for this is due to the lack of school spirit which is needed to carry on certain activities. Many of the girls have the alibi that they don't know how to play many of the different sports. In the physical education classes held twice a week the girls are given a chance to learn to play, and to enjoy different activities. But the lack of co-operation and interest on the part of the girls who are afraid to try and don't want to learn is the main reason the school spirit has dropped considerably in the last few years. Each year the boys have a basketball team and they ask for girls to act as cheer leaders at their games. One girl, wishing to take part as a cheer leader, may try out for it, and if she is considered worthy of the office, she is asked to give cheers at basketball games. These cheers given by the girls should be considered an important factor in the basketball team itself.

Andover to Play Arkport

This coming Wednesday afternoon the Purple Panthers will journey to Arkport where they will play their third game of touch football against a strong Arkport team.

During the week's practice, there has been a change in the line-up. The team is much improved since its first game with Greenwood on Sept. 22nd.

This is expected to be one of the Panther's hardest games, due to Arkport's strong and scrappy team.

The probable starting lineup follows: Harold Rice, lg; Bud Dean, lg; Ken Gath, c; Don Lynch, rg; Bob Perry, fb; Bill Dugan, qb; Bud Dolan, lb; Louis Fulkerson, rbb; Leo Nobles, re.

The Panthers will have a strong reserve team with Claude Shellman, John Lynch, Jack Dean, Ardean Matison, Jimmy Trowbridge, Miles Gorsuch, Don Emery, John Howland and Lyle Ordway ready to relieve the first team.

Editor Writes Letter To Hi Herald Cubs

The regular weekly meeting of the Hi Herald was cancelled last week. The editor sent out letters requesting each cub to write up a fairy story or nursery rhyme as a news story. The best story will be published next week. A fair sample of the stories which the editor has received to date, was the following written by Barbara Temple:

Local Farmer and Astronomer See Strange Sight

Farmer J. J. Plantum of this locality reports that he was awakened last night by strange noises issuing from behind his barn. Rising to investigate he was surprised to see a cat playing a fiddle and his dog nearby laughing at it. On a fence, he saw, sitting, a dish and spoon which soon ran away. Suddenly his old cow came out of the barn and feeling in a gay mood, jumped over the moon.

Some people do not believe Mr. Plantum's report, but a late bulletin from Professor Snoop at Mountain Top Observatory says:

"Last night I was looking thru my telescope at the moon when I observed what looked like Haley's Comet coming toward me. However, I was much disappointed when it turned out to be only a cow."

Juniors Hold Canine Roast

Billy Dugan Is Star Fire Builder

Tuesday night, Oct. 3, about 5:30 the shouting that was heard in the Grove was nothing but a wild bunch of Juniors holding their annual "doggie" roast. After several attempts at building the fire were made, some one made the remark that they ever built the fire would get four extra "weenies." Billy Dugan came to the rescue because of this offer. Since it was too dark by that time to play ball, as it was planned, this idea was abandoned and all interest was placed on the hot dogs and marshmallows. After the appetite of 35 teachers and 16 Juniors were sufficiently satisfied, Miss Barrett and Mr. Giffin started the "ball rolling" and everyone began to sing around the fire. As a final climax, the Juniors were following what they thought was the right road home, several shouts of agony were heard and it was discovered that some of the Juniors had run into a sturdy barbed-wire fence which wasn't seen in the darkness. However, both faculty and Juniors had a fine time and it is hoped that the success of this party will be a preview of all other Junior activities.

—R.S.—

If the boys out on the floor have the pride and school spirit put in them by these girls, they have a greater interest in the game and are more apt to win. The amount of girls that take interest in the cheer leading is very small compared with the amount of girls that are capable of doing it if they were willing to take part. In school the girls ask the boys why they don't come to social hour, or why they don't like the mixed chorus. The answer is the girls do not co-operate with the boys as much as they should.

Therefore I think the girls could take a greater interest in the pride of their school if they were inclined to do so. I ask the girls to consider this information.

Greenwood Upsets Purple Panthers

A scrappy Greenwood team upset Andover Purple Panthers last Tuesday afternoon at Andover by the score of 12 to 7. Andover kicked off to start the game and it was returned to Greenwood's 35-yard line. The remainder of the first period was evenly played between the two teams.

In the second period Andover started a drive and went across for the first touchdown of the game. Andover scored on a reverse from Dolan to Perry, which was good for the touchdown. The try for extra point was good on a pass from Fulkerson to Dugan which was complete and Andover took the lead, 7-0.

Greenwood chose to receive and Dugan kicked off to Greenwood's 35-yard line. Greenwood made a first down on a pass which was complete. On the next play Andover was penalized 15 yards for unnecessary roughness. This put Greenwood in scoring position. On the following play Greenwood scored a touchdown on a pass from Miller to Wallace. The try for extra point was not good. The score at the half was 7-6 in favor of Andover.

In the third quarter Greenwood kicked off to start the second half and the kickoff was returned to Andover's 38-yard line. Andover tried a pass but it was intercepted by Greenwood. A few minutes later Greenwood scored on a long pass from Miller to Greenwood's left end. The try for extra point failed. At the close of the third quarter Greenwood led 12-7.

In the last quarter the Panthers tried to score but failed and the score ended 12-7 in Greenwood's favor. Ken Gath, Bud Dean and Don Lynch played good ball for the Panthers. Andover's backfield was not clicking in today's game, but showed a little life at times during the game.

The starting line-up:

Substitutes: Andover, Lyle Ordway, Jack Dean, Wilbur Lehman.

Score by periods:
Andover 0 7 0 0—7
Greenwood 0 6 6 0—12

Scored touchdown, Andover, Bob Perry, point after touchdown, Bill Dugan, pass; Greenwood, Wallace.

Shaff Catches Long Pass

Roland Shaff caught a long pass from Ken Gath to defeat the Seniors last Monday with the score of 12-6. This was the third game between the Juniors and upperclassmen with each team winning a game and tying one.

The first points were scored on a run by Harold Rice in the early minutes of the game. The Juniors came right back and on the next play Don Lynch ran the length of the field for the tying points. The last points were scored when Ken Gath faked a pass to John Lynch and tossed a 40-yard pass to Roland Shaff who ran over for the winning tally.

The Juniors were playing minus their two best players, Bill Dugan and Dick McAndrew, who were unable to play. Next Monday night the same two teams will meet and each team will be eager to win the game as it will break the tie between them.

Gettin' Around —

Irene Lynch always has bows to match every dress. Ribbons, of course.

I wish someone would tell me what makes up a sissy around here. The Junior boys are afraid they'll violate the law. They are only supposed to play ball.

Tuesday, when the heating system was started, Mr. McGee expressed his doubts whether his classes would be able to keep awake if the temperature was above 65 degrees.

Last week this column stated that Ethel Crowner was the only girl taking History B. Since then, the other two girls have decided to help on taking it. Pardon me.

You've often been given the "horse laugh," haven't you? Miss Larkin says this form of ribbing spoils her sense of humor.

—What happened to the Student Council?

A novel idea is being enacted in the Hi Herald. Sending letters to cubs, stating plans and advices, is a better way of getting to each member personally.

Notice the library bulletin board? It's very realistic and attractive.

A hand-to-hand battle was waged in the economic geography class on the topic, "Should Women Receive the Same Pay as Men for Doing the Same Work?" The judges decision was one to one.

It seems everyone developed a cold to go with the cold rooms. But cheer up, it's warming up now!

What's the attraction at the Funcrest, Betty Jo and Jessie?

Some people! Take Veronica Lynch, for example, who tried to play a fast game of basketball with her winter coat flying around her ankles.

If there is going to be a Student Council, why not form an Athletic Association for the boys who participate in sports.

The dissolving of the soccer team made some valuable players available to the football team.

A reminder: Twelve weeks before Christmas.

Those who have gotten behind in their studies will have a chance to catch up. There is no school this Thursday and Friday.

Nothing but tests this week and what tests!

Geometry is like a puzzle but most of the geometry students can't solve the problems.

The girls that took Don Lynch's picture when he was sleeping in his work clothes, please pass it around so we can all see an honest-to-goodness working man.

It takes C. Gath exactly 35 minutes to milk one cow. (When he has an audience.)

The problem of the crowded halls at noon has been solved. The Juniors and Seniors are let out of school before the Freshmen and Sophomores.

Bill Dugan and Don Lynch pay more attention to the cheer leaders than they do to the football games. Ask them.

Killed, at exactly 11:35. A pesky fly went on to another world as a result of bothering someone when they were trying to study (which is unusual).

School Library Purchases New Books, Magazines

The beginning of the 1939 school year finds several new books in our school library.

These books deal with General Biology, Economic Biology and the Business World. These will not only be of great importance to students taking these courses, but to everyone in general.

The library also has several new magazines. They are the American Boy, Youth, Today and the Popular Science. These magazines are interesting and the students will find also some helpful material in them. Students should show their appreciation of these new books and magazines by handling them very carefully.

Grade News

Skyscraper Rises in Third Grade

The third graders have been studying the city and are now building a skyscraper from boxes. There are offices on the inside with penthouses and roof gardens on the top.

Miss Ball's pupils had a visitor last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The visitor was Bobby Carpenter's pet rabbit.

Robert Rose, a pupil of the first grade, has moved to Scio.

The first grade has a new Halloween health chart for clean hands and nails.

Anne Bostley, one of Miss Perkins' pupils, has recently moved to Wellsville.

Miss Baker's pupils are building an African village as part of their study of the Belgian Congo.

Our Sincerest Sympathy

The pupils, teachers and Hi Herald staff send their whole-hearted sympathy to Miss Katherine Killigrew, whose father has recently died. Miss Killigrew taught Latin, French, economic geography and was faculty adviser for the Hi Herald in Andover for several years.—B.J.L.—

Seventh Graders Prepare Bulletin Board

The seventh grade has a bulletin board of current happenings on the war. It is changed as new events take place. Anyone who is interested is urged to come and see it.

The seventh graders are also going to have a play for entertainment in English class. Clara Hann is the leader; others who take active part in it are: Kenneth Howland, Alta Hawks, Jean Halsey, Wilma Goodridge, Marjorie Vars and Rachael Dixon.

Guess Who?

Dear "Guess Who" Fans:

I heard the "geometry" students were doing a little detective work to try and figure problems out for themselves. Well this isn't quite so hard, but will you tell me who this girl is whom I've been following around for the past week. She is a blonde with quite light brown eyes and I think you will find her in the Freshman homeroom. She's very popular among her fellow students boys as well as girls. I also think she moved to Andover about a year ago to join the students of the old A.H.S.

Will the "Guess Who" fan please tell me who she is?

A Fond Admirer.

Last week's Guess Who—Carol Walton.

Earl K. Giffin, Music Instructor Introduced

Mr. Giffin, formerly a resident of Plattsburg, N. Y., and a graduate of Ithaca College, came to Andover Central School to instruct the students in the different phases of music.

When questioned as to how he likes Andover Central School, he replied enthusiastically, "Very much." Further questioning brought out the fact that during his stay in Andover, Mr. Giffin hopes to bring the band, orchestra and different choruses up to the capability and standards which have been achieved by other such organizations.

Hi Herald Introduces New Student

This week the Hi Herald discovered that Ethel Crowner, formerly of Wellsville, is a new student in Andover Central School. She is taking the subjects history B, home economics 6, French II, English III and typing. Ethel attended this school during her eighth grade year. She says she likes the school very much, especially because of the friendliness of the pupils.

POET'S CORNER

"A FRIEND"

When I'm lonely, angry or hurt

When I'm cynical, restless and sad

When I despise all—from sky to earth,

I need a friend.

When I'm happy, carefree and gay

When I'm proud of myself and my world

When I want to share my work and my play,

I need a friend.

Yes, a friend

Someone who knows you—someone who cares

Someone who goes to in despair

Someone who laughs with in work and play

Someone who knows what not to say

Someone who understands each word and deed

Someone who knows your every need

Someone who's cheery — someone who's gay

Someone who blows your cares away

Someone YOU think of, in the end,

That someone is a friend.

(Thrice blessed is he who has a friend.

He has someone who understands him—

Someone with whom he is in perfect harmony;

He has someone to whom to tell his troubles

And he learns patience and humanness

From listening to his friend's troubles).
