SENIOR PLAY FIRST

There is a lot of murmur in the halls about not having Social Hour until after the play. But, after all, the play must be a great success! The Juniors cannot make it so unless they can practice on it.

Remember, you will all have a chance to be in a Junior play if you have not already had it. And when your time comes, you will also appreciate having as many rehearsals as you can.

Let us forget about not having a couple of Social hours. As we have many more during the year.

Come to the play and you will have a much better time than at a couple of Social hours. When you see all that the Juniors have to offer, you will think "I am glad we did not have Social hour, but gave it up cheerfully to the Juniors."

I think in turn the Juniors will appreciate it very much. —K.H.

TO YOU WHO ARE GOING TO SELL TICKETS

Pupils in grades five thru high school will be given an opportunity of earning a free ticket to the Junior play, by selling five tickets, either regular admission or reserved. In addition to this, any pupil may earn a cash award of one dollar by selling $10 worth of tickets.

Juniors in the play cast will each be given five tickets to sell. If these are sold, the cast—that's the surprise, and you know how surprises aren't to be told until the time comes. Also, the Junior that sells the most tickets will be invited to the play cast party.

We Juniors are showing our initiative by having the play only one night, and now we're going to show you that it can be made a success.

Come on, students, now is your time to help your fellow students.

Latin I Class Forms Club

The Latin I class has chosen a leader, "dux," from each of the two sides. Mary Padden is the "dux" of the "Patricians," while Wanda Dolan is the "dux" of the "Plebeians." These girls will be the head of a Latin club formed within the class. The clubs will meet every two weeks in the regular class period. At this time the "dux" will lead the class in a discussion of Roman stories and legends.

As a result of the five week tests, the Patricians are still leading in the race. —C.M.

Sixth Graders Entertain at Eastern Star Fair

Some of the sixth graders, under the direction of Mr. Giffin, entertained at the Eastern Star fair on Thursday evening, Nov. 9th.

To open the program a chorus of 24 sang several selections. Vivian Shellman and Virginia Loring sang a duet, "Winter." Ruth Hardy, Florence Dodge, James Backus and Victor Clarke sang a quartet arrangement of "Robin Hood." Following that, Victor Clarke sang a solo, "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen." Patricia Temple sang a solo and in closing Billy Dougherty also sang a solo, "Faith of Our Fathers."

Miss Barrett, Mr. McKibben and Mr. Giffin sang a few songs of the "Gay Nineties."

To the enjoyment of everyone present, Silverna performed some magic to end a pleasant entertainment.

Court Prospects For '39-'40

A. C. S. Looks Forward to Worst Season in Years

For perhaps the first time in Andover's history, her high school basketball team starts its basketball schedule as under dog in nearly every fray.

For many seasons Andover has automatically considered her high school teams good and they had just cause to think along those lines. If you doubt this statement just take a look at the records. These former teams never won the championship. Perhaps there were two reasons: First, they have always played class "A" and "B" schools when they should have been in Class "C" league. Secondly, having never won a championship they are psychologically handicapped in the "pinches," believing that Andover cannot win a championship. This certainly seemed true enough.

Last year Andover again had a good team. They won consistently until the league games started. Andover lost four out of six of her league games. Andover won every one of her non-league games, some of which were with class "A" and "B" schools. For instance, she beat Cuba, Allegany county class "B" champions. She beat Canisteo, champion Class "B" school of Steuben county, who went to Rochester and won the semi-finals of the Sectional battles, beaten only in the finals.

Andover also played and beat Hornell (and it wasn't Hornell's second team as they would have us believe). Yes, Andover had a good team but once again the "jinx" seems to have held her back.

This year we have lost six of our regular first team men. Men who would be hard to replace even if we had the material with which to do so.

For some reason we do not have that material. What men we do have are inexperienced and by no means ready for first team competition. Left from last year's great team we have but three regulars, and, incidentally, they weren't too regular at that. They are Bud Dolan, "Bill" Dugan, and Louis Fulker. It is expected that the load on their shoulders will be great, but the whole team is in hopes that there will be others good enough to help them out or even relieve them entirely. This is very possible. We also have men who played in the second team last year and who saw some first team service. They are good, or at least they could be if they tried. Perhaps their chief drawback is the lack of proper spirit toward the sport. This, of course, does not include all of them but in the case of many it is very true.

This group of players are: Dick McAndrew, Leo Nobles, Don Lynch, John Lynch, George Greenan, Roland Shaff, John Ahrens, Lawrence Dean, Robert Perry, Kenneth Gath and Louis Dodge. Any one of these players have possibilities of becoming fine basketball players if they develop their talents to the best of their ability. We also have a third group of players out for basketball. They are the fellows who are out for the first time. Fellows on whom future A. C. S. teams will depend greatly. There is a good chance that some of these players will become first team men before the season is over. What their talents are and what they may make of them remains to be seen. It is very possible that any one man from this group may mean success or failure for the team this year. This group includes: Ernest Burdick, Harold Rice, Wilbur Lehman, Jack Dean, Paul Ryan, James Driscoll, Stanley Ruger, Donald Emery, Victor Oakes, John Howland and Miles Gorsuch. The team has two very capable managers this year. They are Lyle Ordway and Wendall Vars. With their ability used to the fullest extent they will be of tremendous help to the team.

From this summary of our team's prospects you can easily see that their future is very dark, if not black. Perhaps three things stand out which may help this team gain success. They are: First, a fine bunch of fellows, ready and willing to learn and full of fight, a need of every team. Second, we have fine management and good equipment. New suits may help us at least to look like a team. Lastly, we will have fine clever coaching, perhaps the best in the county. Thus the result of the forthcoming season rests squarely on the shoulders of the players. Let's hope that they can keep Andover's tradition of always having a fine team.

Student Draws Portrait

Leo Nobles, a post graduate, drew the portrait of Horatio for the Junior play, "A Ready Made Family." The picture aptly depicts Horatio. Leo drew a high, intelligent forehead, and a strong determined chin. This portrait has been hung above the fireplace.

The play cast wishes to thank Leo for this splendid sketch of Horatio. —M.J.M.

Gettin' Around -

Mr. McGee says that the hopes of Andover's basketball team having a victorious season are very small. Come on, boys, and show him that he is mistaken. Make this year's season a goal for future teams to work for.

It would help the editor a lot if those who have assignments would get them in as soon as possible.

It seems to me that the pupils should use the new books in the library more carefully. In case you haven't seen these books stop in and look them over. It will be worth your time.

Ken Gath frequents the Northrup domicile rather often. Could it be that he is interested in that spoiled child Grace?

These Hi Herald meetings are rather frequent.

The latest fad is letters on coats and sweaters.

Wednesday night Ken Gath and Lyle Ordway were escorts of all those in the Junior play whose residences were on Rochambeau avenue.

The English III Class has some up and coming authors. John Ahrens has the best idea of a true story of any of the pupils in the class.

Have you noticed Ernest Burdick has attended school several days without a vacation.

Take a look at the picture. Leo Nobles drew for the Junior play.

The play cast has set 50 as their goal for selling tickets.

I think they will reach that goal and even pass it.

One sees Junior play advertisements everywhere.

Say, Dick, how did you feel when Silverna played his sleight of hand tricks on you?

Ethel Crowner has two seconds in the Junior play. Mary Voorhees has carried on for Ethel during Ethel's recent illness, also Miss Wood has helped.

Say, Vic, if you want to know how to play a drum take a few lessons from Betty Green and Roberta Church. They certainly can swing it. A dishpan is their latest source of noise.

Two of the grade pupils left the matinee of Silverna's show very happy. He gave two of the audience each a rabbit. If smiles are a sign of happiness these two pupils were certainly happy.

Rollie thinks there will be a good audience at the Junior play if everyone comes. He stated this at the Senior presentation Thursday evening.

This column wishes to congratulate the Seniors on their success with their presentation. The column also wishes the Juniors good luck. There is a sudden interest in non-fiction books. Must be history book reports are due.

The school received the new drums last week. They are real classy and are done in purple and white.

Ken Gath claims he has to work whenever there is play practice, but he is always at the school at 7:15.

Have you noticed Nancy is wearing rouge to go with her lipstick?

Well the intramurals have started again.

Stan Ruger looks like a good prospect for the basketball team.

The Three Vagabonds must be interested in some of the boys on the basketball team. They come to practice every night.

So sorry, to hear about Ethel's illness. We hope it won't last long.

"Hurry back, Agnes!"

The assembly surely went over big. Those old-fashioned dresses were very beautiful.

Louis' radio changes hands quite often. Others use it more than he does.

December 1 will be the first game. When basketball starts, then Christmas is here.

The Juniors are having a hard time getting properties for their play. Out of all the Boy Scouts, there are, none have an axe?

Who are really the pranksters in "A Ready Made Family?" Who is the formidable ghost who startles Ken Gath out of his senses?

Wouldn't it be nice if all the fellows were as tall as Freddie or Jim Trowbridge?

Speculation was great this week when the pupils were examined. Not many girls seemed worried about their figures.

Didja ever see Emily Green when she wasn't making a poster?

Irene Lynch read a story that seems to tickle her more each time she tells it.

The first mass Hi Herald meeting was held Thursday afternoon. New methods of getting news and handling out assignments was discussed. It is interesting to note that the staff is mostly girls.

I can safely say that these five weeks tests are harder than the first.

Representatives to Student Council Are Elected

John Lynch Gets Unanimous Vote From Juniors

Tuesday morning each high school home room selected a boy and girl whom they would vote on as their representative on the Student Council. The following candidates were nominated:

Senior: Harold Rice and Bernadine Briggs.

Junior: John Lynch and Betty Jo Ludden.

Sophomore: Victor Oakes and Wanda Dolan.

Freshman: Arthur Temple and Dorothy Baker.

Elections were held Tuesday afternoon with the following students elected: Harold Rice, John Lynch, Wanda Dolan and Dorothy Baker. —B.T.

Notre Dame-Navy Battle In Arithmetic

The fifth graders have chosen sides to stimulate interest in arithmetic. The captain of the Notre Dame team is Althea Hoagland. The captain of the Navy team is Lloyd Clair.

The team which has the most points at the end of the five weeks period will win. The points are gained or lost as follows:

100 equals 25 points; 90-99 equals 15 points; 80-89 equals 10 points; 70-79 equals 5 points; 60-69 equals 5 points and from 50-59 minus 10 points. —C.M.

Freshmen Attempt Acting

As a part of their study of drama the Freshmen presented the play "Two Crooks and a Lady," Friday morning in the auditorium. Their audience consisted of the Freshmen not in the cast and Miss Larkin.

The cast included:

Miller—Arthur Temple and his second, George Karcenas.

Lucille—Irene Trowbridge and her second, Dorothy Lever.

Mrs. Simms-Vane—Elaine Pope.

Miss Jones—Marilyn Hardy.

Police Inspector—Leo Lewis.

Garrity—Paul Dunham.

Property managers—Leo Lewis and Paul Dunham.

Prompter—Mary Baker.

At the end of their study of drama, the Freshmen hope to present a play as part of an assembly program. —M.E.B.

Grade Students to See Juniors Perform Next Monday

Grade students, do you want to see a colored cook such as Kathleen Howland or a negro handy man like John Ahrens? Maybe you would rather see Eleanor Northrup in the role of pulling Kenneth Gath's hair.

Monday afternoon in the gymnasium, for grade children, for ten cents is the matinee of the "Ready Made Family." It is an ordinary family just like yours perhaps. You will want to see how they live and get along. Bring your money, and enjoy seeing Mary Mesler as an old maid. —M.D.

This Little Piggy Went Strolling

Just as the Hi Herald staff was discussing the method of getting news stories last Thursday, a huge brown pig strolled amiably up Elm Street sidewalk, evidently enjoying the sunshine. Where "Piggy" came from no one seemed to know, but it was an amazing sight, to say the least, and gave the staff some news.

of water go? Was Dick Clair hypnotized or was it good acting?—Arthur, we couldn't believe it either. I'll bet the French convicts wish their government had a guillotine like Silverna's.

The play date has been set definitely for November 21. Buy your tickets now, kids.

The Freshmen are making posters on manners. Now let's see if they practice what they preach.

Have you ever "tried" to use the trick compass in Room B?

Take a look at Pat Lynch's flashy new ring.

Don Lynch is the "black sheep" of geometry class because he's always "forgetting" his book.

The Hi Herald party will be an exclusive affair. You can come only if you are invited. An invitation depends upon your work. —L.O.-B.J.L.

A.C.S. Library Offers New Books For Book Week

To the unmistakable delight of all A. C. S. pupils, the library sports a large number of new volumes. They have apparently caused quite a bit of excitement, judging from the increased interest in library attendance.

Some of the more outstanding volumes are "Sylvia, Inc.," "Gentlemen Aren't Sissies," "River Rising" and "I Wanted Wings," but these are only a starter, so you'd better hurry around and put your name on the reserve lists right away!

The books will be let out this afternoon for the first time.

Silverna Entertains Grade Pupils at Matinee

Eugene Wyckoff and Cecelia Peters Receive Rabbits

Silverna, the magician, entertained the grade children at a matinee last Thursday November 9th. The program started about 3 o'clock and ended at ten minutes of four. A few of the tricks the program consisted of are the following:

Over the open ends of a can were placed paper. A hole was punched in one of the papers and from the can were pulled lots of handkerchiefs.

A penny and card trick were also presented.

While the last trick was being done, piano music was played offstage. A box was shown then with nothing in it. After the magic words were said, the box was opened and from it were pulled scarfs.

The next trick went thru the same process, but from the box was pulled feet of ribbon and from the bottom of the ribbon came a real white rabbit. This rabbit was put into another box. After the magic words were said, the box was opened and the rabbit was gone.

At the end of the play a rabbit was presented to Eugene Wyckoff, and another to Cecelia Peters. One was grayish black and the other brownish color.

Only half of the night program was shown at the matinee. It seemed a very enjoyable and interesting program. —D.A.B.

Girls' Intramural Basketball Started

The intramural council has picked four teams, consisting of the girls in chorus. These teams play every Tuesday night at 3:20. Everyone is urged to attend. Following are the four teams and their captains:

Regina Richardson, captain; Irene Lynch, Jean Glover, Marjorie Davis, Jean Button, Veronica Lynch, Rose Yannie.

Jane Dunham, captain; Bernadine Briggs, Betty Halsey, Patricia Lynch, Dorothy Lever, Jean Northrup, Leatha Callaghan.

Mary Voorhees, captain; Lucille Joyce, Barbara Temple, Lena Mas Voorhees, Kaliopy Karcenas, Ethel Crowner, Vivian Conner.

Jane Burdick, captain; Catherine Perry, Jean Rogers, Florence Minus, Violet Barney, Jessie Burger, Betty Ludden. —N.S.

Hi Herald Reporter Visits Grades

The Hi Herald reporter personally visited each of the grades this week to watch the various classes.

The first stop was the first grade group which Mrs. MacKay helps, where our representative found the tiny class of eight deeply absorbed in reading about animals. In the first grade of Miss Butler's, the students were discussing books and book week, after which Miss Butler read to them a short form of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," upon which they commented.

The visit to the second grade room found the class writing their spelling, which they seemed to know quite well. Having finished this, they proceeded to take out reading books and start the examples therein, in which they were doing when the reporter left. From here he wandered to the third grade where the students had set aside their books to play initial tag. Most of the girls chose boys' initials and vice versa.

At his next stop, in grade three, the reporter found the teacher reading "Pinnocchio," to an attentive class. Some pupils were occupied in writing or reading but kept their minds centered on Pinnocchio's amazing adventures. Throughout the period, pupils commented upon the story.
