pert of the employee and one that is never overlooked by the employer.

Nearly every student in this school will at some time be an employee. It is therefore necessary to practice the important essentials of a good employee while we are in school. Two essentials are courtesy and punctuality. These two are almost necessary if one wishes to "get anywhere" in life. In school everyone has an opportunity for sowing courtesy, not only to teachers, but to the fellow classmates. Punctuality is shown by getting to class on time and in the right manner. There are, of course, many other things we should practice to be a good employee, but these two head the list. Be courteous, punctual and last but not least, have a good personality. With these three essentials you are on the road to success.

There has been quite a lot of talk going about recently among the students about a dance orchestra for our school. A few years ago some of the pupils played for Social Hours and sometimes for The students in those days were probably no more talented than the students today and there is no reason why we can't have one today.

There is plenty of good talent in school and all it needs is a little or ganization to start it going. A few weeks of practice would he all it would need.
