RANDOM SHOTS By RALPH SHAFF

One of the leading questions that is uppermost in a lot of minds just now seems to be when does the trout season open. This has been answered in part by the list of counties which include the group that open on April 20th. They are: Allegany, Cattaraugus, Chautauque, Clinton, Erie, Essex, Fulton, Genesee, Hamilton, Livingston, Niagara, Orleans, Putnam, St. Lawrence, Ontario, Otsego, Warren and Wyoming counties open April 20th and close Aug. 31st. All other counties open on the regular date, April 6th to Aug. 31st. There are still some changes in limit to be acted upon. Before you go fishing, better see the game warden and get his guess concerning the latest regulations, because the way this trout season opening has been kicked around in this state I don't think the game warden really knows just where he is at.
