The Allegany County Wild Turkey Club boys gathered at the Moose Club in Wellsville Monday evening and held their first regular meeting following a turkey dinner that was attended by a group of the foremost sportsmen in Allegany county. Calhoun, John Lever, George Sackett and J. E. Cannon.

John Lever and party, not satisfied to pass the evening talking game conservation, control of vermin and the stocking of wild turkeys in Allegany county came in close contact with a nice buck deer near the Burdick farm this side of the Columbia pump line station and outside of a nice big dent in the rear fender the Packard came out unscathed. The deer got knocked all over the state road, jumped a wire fence and by the time Johnny had said "Judas Priest" was going up over the hill not saying a thing. George Sackett who was driving behind the Packard allowed even a big buck deer had no chance against "that Lever luck."
