Current Comments STUDENT COUNCIL DANCE

The Student Council has decided to sponsor a new type of dance for their next one. This dance is going to be just like the other one except stags, from the school, are going to be allowed. The Student Council wishes to have a dance to please as many people as it can and they have found out that the majority of the students prefer stags.

In this way many more students will be able to go to the dance who otherwise would be staying at home. This new idea will avoid all the trouble of fixing up dates for boys and girls who don't want to go with each other. This will not interfere with the boys and girls who wish to go as couples and it will also give the ones who don't wish to go with someone a chance to go.

As you all know, the Student Council doesn't want to make money on this dance, but only to break even—the last dance we had we went ten dollars in the red, since there was a very small percentage of the student body at the dance. So the Council has decided to try having stags, just from school, at the dance.

The Student Council is only too pleased to welcome townspeople and students of other communities to the dance, but believe that, previously, a school dance should be for the benefit of the high school students. If allowing stags from the school will increase student participation, then the Council wishes to run their dances in this fashion. They have no idea of carrying out this plan for the Prom and Ball which are for the benefit of everyone who wishes to come. They only want to have a dance which everyone of the students will enjoy. So support the Student Council by coming to their dance.

Don Lynch, President of Student Council

Current Comments ABOUT A STAG DANCE

Yes, it's new. That is, it's new for Andover. We'll make it so that it's the first, last and only time we'll have to have one.

Due to some queer quirk in Andover's armor this year, crowds just don't seem to be so enthusiastically forthcoming as last year or the year before. Thus and so forth, the school has had to resort to this kind of dance to make traditional ends meet. True, there are several who dislike the idea heartily—but when faced with the choice of stag dance or none at all, they readily accept the first.

Now here's the Hi Herald's secret advice: Make this stag dance just an unheard of success that the cash register will jingle so merrily that we'll never have to frown in wonder over how to have a dance and make money at the same time again! Make this dance one so full of people that next time we can have the date-time and fun-time of dancing with someone to go with and return with! Make this stag dance the last one we'll ever have to have because of lack of enthusiasm! Make this the last stag dance!

Current Comments OUR HERITAGE OF FREEDOM

Next week is "Bill of Rights" Week, and behind that simple statement stands such a proud and glorious record that all Americans thrill to it.

Now we can truly appreciate it and deeply when overseas the only weak they know is an air raid shelter, dive bombers and gas masks. The same country, our mother country, is taking a hard fight from a fierce foe today just as centuries ago she was winning the battle over class dispute. From this raging turmoil came a people destined to become the world's greatest. With them they brought, at first—only mentally, the great first ten amendments to our Constitution, the Bill of Rights. Just picture all the wealth and

A. C. S. Office Issues New Paper

"Miss Snyder, please give me 30 sheets of 'vanilla' paper." Immediately Miss Snyder's hand reaches to her mouth to cover up a smile, as she goes to fulfill this peculiar daily request.

And what is "vanilla" paper? A new kind of flavored delectable paper? Upon being questioned, Miss Snyder, altho blushing and slightly hesitating, admits that this request comes from both the grade and the high school pupils.

"Miss Snyder, may I please have some 'vanilla' (oh, pardon me) I mean Manila paper?"

All Cheering Outfits Here

At last, the cheerleaders have their complete outfits. They consist of white satin blouses with "Andover" and a megaphone stamped on the back; and purple gabardine slacks with white stripes. The outfits look very nice on the cheerleaders and many compliments have been stated regarding them. They made their debut at the pep meeting Friday afternoon and at the Whitesville game that night.

happiness bound up in those words—freedom to say what you think, to worship one's God and to write and print the whole truth. Try to imagine what kind of America this would be without those heritages of ours. We've always had them and we hope we always will have them. Caution, courage, brains—they will be the salvation of the Bill of Rights in the future just as they have been in the past. The Bill of Rights, a great piece of work by a great people.

Current Comments TO LINCOLN

Wednesday, Feb. 12 was Lincoln's birthday. Everyone knows who "Abe" Lincoln was, and what his name has meant to the citizens of the United States. Now, in this world torn with war and when we live from one day to another wondering how long it will be before one nation blows another up and all the people of the world are fighting each other for a reason they cannot state, the memory of the great Abraham Lincoln is more sacred than ever before.

Abraham Lincoln fought a war for peace, altho the thought of bloodshed made him shudder. And why was Lincoln so great; because he was himself. A man of simple faith who held every man equally important and tried to help all man kind as best he could. He was never too tired or busy to comfort a bereaved mother, encourage his soldiers, or teeter a small child on his knee. The problems of others were his problems. He spent much time trying to make the problems of others less deplorable.

We need more men like Abraham Lincoln. Men with strength, courage, firmness of character and the ability to lead others, making himself one of the people. To Lincoln, one of the greatest men who ever lived, all Americans take off their hats.

Student Body Drowns Out Don Emery!

"And did they!" Cheers and echoes of the "Purple and White's" renowned record still lingered after the pep meeting; was over last Friday afternoon. Mr. McGee took over the assembly and, along with his advice and the new cheers and motions, this meeting was for the noisiest yet.

The group closed the lusty get-together with the determined effort to "drown out Don Emery" in the echo yell.

Homemaking Class Operates Cafeteria

The Homemaking A Class very capably took over the operation of the school cafeteria on Tuesday during the absence of Mrs. Wood, due to sickness.

Under the direction of their teacher, Miss Brice, the girls prepared the food and served it to approximately 80 customers. The menu for the day included creamed chipped beef, baked potatoes, pineapple and cottage cheese salad, vegetable soup, cup cakes, fruit, ice cream and milk.

So They're Going To Be Cooks?

Have you smelled a quaint, almost familiar aroma of something cooking (or burning) floating down our halls, and wondered just what it was supposed to resemble? Cease to wonder, wonderers, for it's only the home economics girls taking their first steps in the culinary arts.

The girls, eight to be exact, are divided into working groups of two and have for the last two weeks been preparing creamed vegetables, creamed soups and cereals. It may be said that these inexperienced home makers have prepared quite successful dishes, and have actually eaten their preparations without too unfavorable consequences, even tho they are seen to cast meaning and wry glances from person to person. Anyway, here's to their good luck in whatever cooking or baking is to be mastered later.

CHIT CHAT -

Attention, adults! The Seniors are planning to hold their adult game night in the gym next Tuesday night. Let's have a big crowd there to join in the fun!

Don't tell us that Georgie Greenan and his blonde bomber have had a break-up. Tch, tch, tch!

Andover Central's chummiest couple were seen at the movies in Wellsville last Sunday! We think you know who we mean.

The Juniors held their long-talked-of public speaking assembly this morning. Some fun; eh kids? The cheerleaders are certainly flashy in their new outfits. We don't blame them for wanting to show them off. Also, the new motions to some of our old cheers would be swell—if we got them down pat.

The Freshmen are in their usual confusion and uproar concerning dates for the coming dance—by the time they're Sophomores, we hope they'll catch on to the proper "et-tyker" as to dating for dances.

A big bunch of guys and gals had their usual after-a-basket ball game fun last Friday night, when they took over "Red's Bungalow" for a few hours.

We hear that Irene and Regina celebrated Lincoln's Birthday in their usual gay manner. Can't keep those two down!

Social Hour went over in a big way Monday night when A. C. S.'ers swung out—or in—as the case may be, to the tune of the phonograph.

"Rover" decided to visit school Thursday morning. He took one look at the Senior room and occupants and fled to the Science room! When is "it," anyway, the 15th or 22nd?

J. Dunham is bemoaning the fact that her one and only can't dance. Even his best friend doesn't—tch!

The Catholic school in Wellsville holds dances to the music of the Stalter orchestra (which is very nice says B.J.L.).

J. Jackson is quite an artist. Her super picture is on the technique of kissing. We wonder if girls intramurals will be held twice a week in the future?

Many thanks to Miss Snyder for typing vocational outlines for Seniors.

We're proud of our Boy Scouts in uniform. Glad to hear that Johnny R. is better!

Thirteen Freshmen out last Monday. Better take vitamins, Frosh! Two dates we have to remember: Feb. 18, for adults only, and Feb. 22 for Students and Townspeople. Specially Feb. 18 for adult gym night and Feb. 22 the big dance.

Off the Bookshelves

by Mary Mesler
"Avoid extremes in clothes before you find the fashion's gone, and you are left behind," is taken from Briggs' "Behave Yourself."

If you aren't sure of the definition of "imperialism," be sure to read the book entitled, "Windows of the World," which has an illustration on page 97. By the way, it is a very readable book for Social Studies and History C. students.

"He sings and dances and takes up the floor. The life of the party is simply a bore," was written by Briggs in "Behave Yourself."

If you find an interest in the draft program, read page 85 in last Reader's Digest, an article entitled "A Year Out of Your Life."

Some day during your spare time count the number of books located on the library shelves that harmonize with the colors in the draperies in the room. It would enlarge your appreciation of different hues of color and enliven the unused sections or channels in your "upper story."

Honest Abe is looking at us this week from the library bulletin board. I wonder what he would think of Andover students' good fortune of being surrounded by books.

Mother: "I punished you for being so naughty, so as to impress it on your mind."
Sonny: "Yes, mother, but you don't seem to know where my mind is located."

WILDCATS TRIP WHITESVILLE

The Andover Jayvees beat the Whitesville seconds on the local court last Friday night by a score of 21-13. This game was hotly contested thruout with Whitesville leading most of the time until the final quarter, at half-time "the boys from over the hill" had a two point advantage on the locals by a 9-7 count. However in the final quarter Andover badly outclassed Whitesville by throwing in ten points.

Miles Gorsuch was high for the Wildcats chalking up ten points for his evening's work. James Wyant was high man for Whitesville with six points:

ANDOVER CAGERS DROP THRILLER TO WHITESVILLE

Andover's title hopes faded away to a pretty dim light when a powerful Whitesville squad carried away top honors to a 29-27 finish last Friday night in the A. C. S. gym. The fourth quarter proved the locals' undoing when Whitesville came from behind to drop in a couple of baskets to take the lead and hold it to the finish. Ruger, Gath and Don Lynch were removed on the foul route in the final minutes of play and from there on the Whitesville squad took over. The Panthers held a 12-2 lead at the close of the first period but Whitesville shortened it up to 15-12 at half time and again to remain only one point behind the start of the final period.

Ruger held scoring honors for the locals with 13 points followed by Karcanes and Ryan with four each. C. Clarke was high for the invaders with 11 points.

LAST HOME GAME WITH RICHBURG TONIGHT

The Andover Purple Panthers will play their last home game Thursday Feb. 13th. The boys have had a lot of tough luck this year because of injuries and the fact that there were so many new men on the team that it didn't seem to function right. Richburg has quite a large team and has not lost a league game, while Andover has lost two.

So far the boys have won six and lost five, winning two from Greenwood, one from Allentown, one from Belmont, one from Alfred-Almond and one from Whitesville. They lost two to Wellsville, one to Alfred-Almond, one to Richburg and one to Whitesville. This is expected to be a hard fought and closely contested game.

PURPLE PANTHERS SWAMP ALLENTOWN 61 TO 30

A powerful Andover squad took Allentown to the cleaners by a 61-30 score on the Allentown court Tuesday evening. At the end of the first period the locals led 14-6 and increased the lead thruout every period. Past breaking Allentown dizzy in the second half, Andover led by a 52-22 score at the end of the third period, but from there on slowed down considerably when the Allentown defense tightened up a little. John Lynch and Paul Ryan showed some dead-eye shooting in the third quarter when each dropped in three buckets from the side while Rollie Sheff played one of the best defensive games of the season and also dropped in four points.

Stan Ruger led the locals in scoring with 14 points while G. Karcanes and John Howland stayed close behind with 12 and 11 points respectively. H. Erwin was high for the opponents with 16 points.

WILDCATS TROUNCE ALLENTOWN 49-7

The Andover Wildcats trounced the Allentown Seconds by a decisive count of 49 to 7 on the Allentown court Tuesday night. The home team offered little opposition to the fast-passing Andover team. Miles Gorsuch with 17 points, was outstanding for the Andover team. The seconds have not been defeated in league competition and will play a strong Richburg team on the local court this (Thursday) night.

DRIBBLING WITH DRISCOLL

Whitesville certainly picked a wrong time to start winning when they knocked over the local team. The Andover team was decidedly over-confident and paid for it dearly. One of the players was confidently expecting a 20 point margin for the locals to win by.

Whitesville's orange clad warriors continued their disastrous season by losing to Alfred-Almond 39-30, as Crossett scored 21 points, and being defeated 32-16 by an improving Cuba team. Wellsville has won only four games this season, but two of these were from Andover.

The Purple and White varsity certainly is an in-and-out aggregation playing first a good game against Alfred-Almond and then an extremely poor one against Whitesville. I wonder what it will be against Richburg?

Hornell retained it's hold on first place by barely outscoring Bath on the Hornell court, as the wild game broke up in a fight. McDermott, Hornell's leading scorer, and Goety, star Bath athlete were ejected from the game.

The second team played much the same way against Whitesville as against Alfred-Almond, but managed to win.
