George Kame, president of the Horse Traders Convention, called on the News this week, while in Andover in the interest of this year's Horse Traders Convention to be held during the week of August 11-16, 16th.

According to President Kame the convention will be "bigger and better" than ever this year with a carnival company and swimming pool for amusement seekers. There will be no gate charge.

President Kame informed the News that "Johnny" Lever had already made reservations for two horses and a goat.

Allegany County Judging Team Competes at Columbus, Ohio

An Allegany county vegetable judging, grading and identification team will compete in the National Vegetable Growers Contest at Columbus, O., on August 5 and 6. The group includes two former National contest representatives, Leona Gaus and Charlie Pitt of the Peavy Progressive Club, and a third member, Alice McCarthy, winner of the National demonstration contest at Philadelphia last year. An alternate Garth Woodkirk, of the West Clarksville 4-H Club has been named to attend the meeting in addition to the three girls. This team has been selected as a result of the elimination contest held at Perrysburg and Cohocton.

This is the third year Allegany county teams have competed in National contests. In addition to participating in the contests the club members will attend regularly organized tours thru the garden and potato areas in central Ohio.

Allegany County Club Members Prepare Exhibits For County Fair

Allegany County 4-H Club members have been busy this summer caring for and preparing exhibits for the Annual Allegany county fair to be held August 20 thru the 23rd. Nearly 100 boys and girls are expected to show purebred dairy animals, sheep, swine, horses and poultry in direct competition with the adult exhibitors. The group award system will be used this year for the first time in the open or adult shows.

Local club tours indicate that the quality of livestock that will be shown at the county fair will be superior to that of previous years and a big increase is expected in the garden and potato exhibits. Club members have scored their gardens on local club tours and have been given training on selection and preparation of exhibits for the county fair.
