July Birth Rate Sets New Record In Empire State

Albany, Sept. 3.—The birth rate in the State for July was the highest for any month in eleven years, while the death rate was, with two exceptions, the lowest recorded for the month, according to the report of July health conditions submitted today by Dr. J. V. DePorte, director of the Division of Vital Statistics, to Dr. Edward S. Godfrey, Jr., State Commissioner of Health.

Doctor DePorte said that for the 13th successive month the state's birth rate has been moving upward and now has reached 17.9 per 1,000 population. The death rate for July was 9.9. "The infant mortality (28 deaths under one year per 1,000 live births) established a new minimum for all months," Dr. DePorte said.

Retired Workers Going Back on Jobs Will Receive Old-Age Insurance When They Stop Work Again

Retired workers drawing Federal old-age insurance benefits who take jobs available to older people as a result of the national defense program will be entitled to their benefits when they again quit work, Mr. Milbouer, manager of the Social Security Board office at Jamestown, said today. He explained that under the law monthly benefit payments are discontinued during the time when a worker has a job in covered employment at $15 or more a month. A worker past 65 who has retired and begun receiving his monthly old-age insurance payments is required to notify the Social Security Board if he should at any time work for wages $15 or more a month in employment covered by the law, Mr. Milbouer said. He added that the worker is not entitled to an insurance payment for any month in which he is so employed, and that if he fails to notify the Social Security Board he may lose more than that month's benefit. However, when he stops work or loses his job he should notify the Social Security Board at once, and his monthly retirement benefits will begin again.

According to Mr. Milbouer, the retired worker taking a job is required to notify the Social Security Board only when the job is one of those covered by the law. He may work in other types of employment—such as farming, domestic service or odd jobs not connected with his employer's business—or he may have a business of his own, and continue to receive his monthly payments.

Mr. Milbouer said that his office has postcard forms which workers can obtain to use in notifying the Board if they go back to work in any covered employment. He urged workers to call at his office for information concerning this or any other phase of their old-age and survivors' insurance.

Raymond Dare Goes Before Voters to Seek Advancement

Wellville Candidate For Sheriff Has Served Nine Years in Department. — Work Praised By Two Executives.

Under Sheriff Raymond Dare of Wellsville, Republican Primary candidate for nomination as sheriff of Allegany county today made a direct appeal to the voters on the basis of promotion.

"I feel," Mr. Dare said, "that the issue is whether or not a young fellow can work up to a county office."

"I look upon this campaign, from my standpoint, as an opportunity to come before the Republican voters and ask that they promote me. I have served nine years in the sheriff's office as deputy, identification expert and under sheriff. Now I feel I am qualified for a better job."

Mr. Dare pointed to two statements made in the past by two men under whom he has worked.

Sheriff F. Vanama Jones said: "Dare's work has been very efficient and satisfactory."

Sheriff Edson A. Brigham said: "Mr. Dare in his capacity has proven to be a valuable man to the sheriff's office and should be kept on the job."

Mr. Dare, in conclusion declared, "I am only asking what any employee in private business would ask if a vacancy was open. Business practices certainly should be considered in public business just as much as in private business. I will give my best to the office if nominated and elected. The Republican voters of this county hold the answer."
