And it is really rather simple to be safe, even when handling firearms, if the hunter will apply the rules which he knows by heart. Don't point a gun at a person under any circumstances, unless the intention is to shoot him. Don't carry a loaded gun in an automobile or other conveyance. Don't push a loaded gun thru a fence, brush similar obstruction which might cause an accidental discharge. Don't leave a loaded gun standing against a tree, it might slip and fall. Don't shoot at any object which you cannot see clearly enough for identification or at movements thickets and similar spots of thick cover. In general, don't be foolish in using a weapon; which is designed for killing Observance of these simple rules may help to avoid an unhappy ending for !
