Bruckner Named Head of Cornell Poultry Department

New head of the poultry department at Cornell University, the third in history, is Dr. J. H. Bruckner, whose appointment is announced by Dr. Carl E. Ladd, dean of the College of Agriculture.

The new head has owned and managed chickens since the age of 12, and has worked on commercial poultry farms and in commercial hatcheries. He has culled poultry in New York State, inspected breeding flocks, and has worked at the state egg-laying tests. For two years he was in charge of the State Conservation Department's game farm at Ithaca.

Dr. Bruckner was graduated from Purdue University in 1930 and earned his Ph.D. degree at Cornell in 1935. He taught courses for several years in general poultry, incubating and brooding, and assisted in poultry judging and breeding.

Cornell to Give Special Winter Term

To help young men who work on farms and want to go to college, but cannot leave the last of September a special winter term is offered beginning students at the New York State College of Agriculture, Cornell University. It starts November 16 and ends March 13, and thus frees the students for both spring and fall work on farms.

Requirements for admission to the winter term are about the same as those for the 4-year degree course. One year of practical experience on a farm is also required.

Six courses of study are offered: farm management, farm mechanics, farm shop work, soils and crops, dairy cattle management, and public speaking.

An announcement of the winter term may be had from the secretary at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

New York State Civilians Gird For Enemy Air Raid

The Army's P-38 interceptors (above) are ready to defend New York state communities such as Albany (center), if it should "happen here." John J. Hennessy (lower right) directs bomb-extinguishing demonstration atop Empire State building, for Lt. Gov. Charles Folelli, former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, and civilian defense officials.

NEW YORK—For the first time in 130 years the people of New York state are faced with the threat of an enemy attack—this time in the form of possible reprisal bombing raids by enemy-seeking Nazi fliers.

Most of the state's 13,500,000 population is concentrated in the 3,250,000 homes in the 103 cities and towns of 2,500 and more people. In addition to the homes which comprise the "civilian front," many of the 35,000 industrial plants scattered in the communities throughout the state, where a floor workers are employed in war production activities, also represent "military objectives" for enemy bombers.

Under the leadership of the state office of civilian protection, the county and local governments are mobilizing hundreds of thousands of volunteers and wardens, auxiliary police and firemen, demolition and clearance crew members, and Red Cross first aid workers.

Motor Vehicle Use Tax Stamps

George T. McGowan, Collector of Internal Revenue, announces that the stamps in the denomination of $5.00 to cover the Motor Vehicle Use Tax for the full fiscal year 1943 have been, since June 10, 1942 and are now on sale in all post office and Collector's offices.

The stamps will evidence payment of the tax for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1942, and must be purchased on or before that date. The stamps will be serially numbered, will be gummed on the face, and will have provision on the back for entry of the make, model, serial number and State License number of the vehicle.

It will be observed that Serial Number which appears on the $5.00 denomination stamp for the fiscal year 1943, and which will appear on future denomination stamps, is to be entered on the gasoline rationing coupon book to be issued by the Office of Price Administration. This number will serve to identify the coupon book as applying to a particular vehicle (make, kind and model) and in effect, means that in those areas where gasoline is rationed, or will be rationed, the service station attendants will not be authorized to dispense motor fuel unless the number of the book corresponds to the number on the stamp, and the description of the vehicle.

Unless this Motor Vehicle Use Tax Stamp is procured and paid on or before July 1, 1942, heavy penalties will be incurred by drivers who operate vehicles without such stamp.
