Louisa's Letter

Answer to Fuzzled Girl—Va.

Your letter was written so long ago, that I wonder what you have done about your problem. I hope you had will power enough to stop seeing this man for although you had gone together before he was married, he gave up the right to go with you when he took a wife. He sounds like a very weak person to me. There are a great many men who like to play the part of poor, misunderstood husbands and play on the sympathies of single girls but most of them are snakes in the grass and are up to no good.

If he and his wife could not get along and he intended getting a divorce, why didn't he do it and then come to you instead of trying to put you in such a bad position where people can say unkind things about you even if they are not true?

I doubt if you would be happy with him anyway. The man who breaks down and cries because he can't get what he wants and who threatens to kill himself sounds to me like a poor risk as a husband.

Let me know what you have done.

Best wishes,
LOUISA

Dear Louisa.
I am a girl of eighteen and I am madly in love with a man twice my age. I had been dating him over a year and he wrote to me real often. Now he doesn't write at all. He didn't have any cause to get mad and I am too proud to write to him until he writes to me.

Please tell me what to do. Write him or try to see him, or try to forget him? I am not jealous but he is very jealous. He is going with another girl but he still seems to love me. Should I start going with other boys?

Blond—Miss.

Answer
Why do you think he still loves you under the circumstances. Has he acted in such a way to make you think so? Did you do anything to make him jealous and to make him lose faith in you?
For if you have given him no cause to treat you as he has, he must have realized that he didn't

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

The giant four-motored Navy Patrol Bombers are the world's most powerful planes. They cost approximately $700,000 each. The Navy also has a lighter Bomber called the Scout Bomber which costs about $143,000 apiece.

The battle for Britain was almost lost because England had none of these giant four-motored planes with which to fight back. We need thousands of them and they are coming off the assembly lines in our production plants at a high rate of speed today. You can help buy these for your Navy by purchasing War Bonds and Stamps every pay day. Put at least ten percent into Bonds or Stamps and help your county go over its Quota.

Todd Riveters Set World Record

With their compressed air hammers working at a speed comparable to a machine gun spraying a battlefield, a crew of riveters at the Todd Erie Basin Dry Docks, Brooklyn, N. Y., established a world's record for setting rivets in a day's working time of seven and three quarters hours. The crew drove 2,793 rivets in the same day's work. A rival crew in the same yard on the same day set 2,745 rivets.
