BUY BONDS! STAMPS!

Bonds and Stamps pave the way to a quick Allied victory. It has been encouraging to see the number of stamps sold in the grades this year. Thus far, the kindergarten, the first, second, third and fourth grades are selling stamps and a total of $18 has been reached.

A soldier does not have the alternative of buying a sundae or a War Stamp. He must fight and perhaps give his life for the United Nations. The least the people at home can do is to offer the money necessary to buy the material to preserve his life. He cannot hope to fight the dictators if he has no weapons.

The purchase of War Bonds provides an easy and convenient way to insure life savings, also. If the Bonds are bought now, after the war we will have our money gack, plus interest. If the Bonds are no good after the war, nothing in the United States will be of monetary value. By buying Bonds and paying heavy taxes now we will do a great deal to avoid inflation.

Inflation is not a necessary evil and there is no use in such a state existing when the public can act to avoid it now.

Students may, by buying Bonds now, save money for their college education in the future and for financing the beginning of their life work.

Last year a system was started in ACS whereby War Stamps were on sale one day a week in each high school home room.

The war keeps getting worse and worse every day and we students should be willing to give up our money for something that may mean freedom for each of us, as individuals. Not just our money will go for these materials, but the money of thousands of others also.

So, let's start selling Stamps in high school, as many as we possibly can each day and each week. JB

Faculty Checks School Census

The faculty of Andover Central School recently checked the school census with the registration cards made out this fall by the pupils who enrolled in ACS.

This census was taken before school commenced by Miss Elizabeth Snyder and the check was made to insure that the school records were accurate. DB

Boy Scouts To Camp Near Bolivar

The Andover Boy Scout Troop is anticipating a camporee which is to be held Friday evening (tomorrow). Their host will be the Bolivar Boy Scout Troop.

The Scouts will leave tomorrow afternoon, accompanied by Mr. Fribolin and Mr. Ingerson, Scout Master and Assistant Scout Master respectively.

They will "camp out" for their evening meal, spend the night sleeping in tents, and cook their breakfast out Saturday morning. MEB

Miss Baker Joins Ranks of Faculty

Huffing and puffing, gasping and sighing, Miss Mary Baker came staggering into the gymnasium last Thursday afternoon at the completion of her first experience as instructor of the Freshman girls' physical education class.

Because Mary has a conflict with physical education and trigonometry, Mr. Ingerson has asked her if she would care to assist in teaching this class every Monday and Thursday for her credit in physical education.

Mary seems to enjoy this new experience greatly and after pitching a softball to 40 girls, she realizes how the baseball pitcher's arm feels when he has pitched an entire game. MJH

Boy Scouts Pass Tests

At a Scout meeting held Wednesday evening, September 16, members of the Andover troop took individual tests for advancement. The boys who passed their assigned tests are:

Earl Richardson, tenderfoot — Pacing and knots.

Richard Steadman, second class—First aid and compass.

James Gorsuch, second class — Compass.

Ferdinand Smith—Helper.

Craig Snyder—Helper.

Basil Dunham, second class—Pacing and signaling. MEB

Grade News

Miss Reotenwald's kindergarten is doing its part to help win the war. Following are the names of those enthusiastic War Stamp buyers who have contributed to the kindergarten's grand total of $7.20:

Miss Seguin's first grade has been doing finger painting and studying about pets. In science they have been learning about life around them. Defense Stamps amounting to $2.00 have been sold.

Mrs. Allen's section of the first grade has just received the new pre-primer, "Look and See." Besides this, the pupils have new work books. Their War Stamp total is $3.00.

The second grade purchased a total of $3.80 in War Stamps.

Third and fourth grades have been studying good health habits.

Miss Gottlieb's section has bought a total of $2.00 worth of War Stamps.

Miss Perkins' section hasn't as yet started the buying of Stamps, nor have the upper grades.

The pupils of the sixth grade have been studying the country and inhabitants of China. In art class they wrote in Chinese with paints and brushes.

The new seventh graders have a copy of the school song on their blackboard and are learning it from there.

A very attractive bulletin board entitled "Are You Air Minded?" may be seen in the eighth grade. The reminder "For Victory, Buy War Stamps" is also in evidence.

24 Girls Accepted Into Girls' Chorus

After several days of voice testing, the names of the girls who have been accepted as members of the high school girls chorus have been announced by Miss Marian Hanneman, music instructor.

It is believed that a small select group of girls with good voices will prove to make a better chorus than the large group which has made up this organization in previous years.

The final list consists of:

Clarabelle Boyce	Mary Cannon
Barbara Childs	Norma Crowner
Florence Dodge	Arretta Dunham
Clara Hann	Marilyn Hardy
Ruth Hardy	Alta Hawks
Virginia Joyce	Susan McAndrew
Mareta Perry	Betty Rice
Doris Sick	Vivian Shellman
Frances Slocum	Kathryn Snyder
Norma Steadman	Marian Stevens
Patricia Temple	Elaine Pope

Girl Scouts Enjoy Tureen Supper

A tureen supper was held by the Andover Girl Scout Troop last Wednesday evening prior to the regular meeting under the direction of Misses Marie Mahl and Elizabeth Snyder.

Each girl brought a special dish and the menu consisted of sandwiches, meat loaf, jello, cookies, pickles, potato salad, and baked beans. Each girl brought what she wanted to drink. Games were played after dinner and the meeting closed with the Girl Scout promise. RHL

CHIT-CHAT

Who's the new heart interest in Wellsville, Marilyn? Not deserting the old home town are you?

If you should be aimlessly walking down the corridor (which you shouldn't be doing) and you see a pair of blood red hands before you, pick yourself up, it's only an art student.

Don't tell a soul, but we have noticed a big romance between a Junior class president and a certain Freshman.

What a coincidence! Elaine and Arthur working together in chemistry. They ought to invent something good.

"Blacker" and "Red" seem to be hitting it off pretty well this year, despite their infrequent little arguments.

We observed Kenny Cook buying a bond at the local P.O. Congrats, Ken.

By the way, Kenneth, who is the big moment at Genesee—as if we didn't know.

The Juniors are busily planning the year's activities.

Our Freshman look like an ambitious group—more power to you, Frosh. AEM

Presenting . . .

MISS MARY CATHERINE SHERWOOD, who is the new commercial teacher in the Andover Central School.

Miss Sherwood attended Wellsville High School and Mercy Hurst College in Erie, Pa. This is the first year of full-time teaching for her, altho she did some practice teaching last year at the Academy in Erie, Pa.

Her favorite food is steak, her hobby is reading, and the sport which she enjoys most is tennis. She prefers Van Heflin to any other actor, Bette Davies is superb in her opinion and there is no better picture than "Dark Victory" as far as she is concerned.

As for the radio, what more interesting program (for pure nonsense) than "Club Matinee," asks Miss Sherwood.

She thinks A. C. S. is a friendly school and the only improvement she suggested was that the pupils could study longer and harder.

The very best of success in her career as a teacher is wished Miss Sherwood. SM

First Marking Period Ends

The first marking period ends this week and tests are being given in each subject.

Those having one or more marks below 65 or two or more 65's will have the eighth period for an extra supervised study hall.

Those pupils carrying five subjects who already are enrolled in an extra study hall each night from 3:10 to 3:45 will no longer be required to keep the appointment if their average in each subject is 70 per cent or above.

Report cards will be issued to the pupils next week. SM

Art Display In Library

The art displays which have been seen in the library this week were made by the Seniors. They are finger paintings which are made with poster paint and a few drops of glycerine.

These paintings are in very beautiful colors such as pink mixed with blue and, because they do not present any specific pictures, they seem like different designs to different people. FMM

"Time Stood Still"

"What time is it?" "Is it time for classes?" These various questions were asked a week ago Monday morning, Sept. 14, when it was evident that the clocks were not running. Upon entering the library, one may have found the clock registered 11 o'clock, whereas in another room, the hands pointed to 8 o'clock. Many were curious as to what caused such a confusing difference and after a series of incorrect answers, the right one was found.

"Time stood still" because of a short circuit caused by an electric storm the night before.

The clocks were in running order again Monday, Sept. 21. It was necessary for a representative from the International Business Machines in Buffalo to make a call at the school before all the wires could be completely adjusted. NAC

With Needle and Spoon

The Homemaking A girls have been studying "The Handling and Care of Food in the Home." They have studied conveniently arranged kitchens and the equipment desirable for these kitchens. Each girl made a floor plan of the kitchen in her home and these were discussed and re-arranged in class to provide for more efficient work.

The Home Economics seven girls have been having a discussion on the sharing of home responsibilities. Each girl presented various situations involving home responsibilities which were debated and solved by the members of the class.

The seventh and eighth grade homemaking classes have been divided into four groups: Cooking, sewing, homemaking and grooming. By the end of the year, each girl will have worked in each of the four groups. BB

What! No Explosions?

With the eager grasping of test tubes and Bunsen burners, the chemistry students commenced their first experiment this week with a bang (in words only).

Working in groups of two's, the brilliant young chemists-to-be, attempted to find the difference between physical and chemical changes —A little difficulty arose when it came to lighting the burners, but with a bit of help they were finally illuminated.

The black stains on several pairs of hands were the results of accidental applications of silver nitrate.

Under the watchful eye of Mr. Maloy and despite the few trivial problems, the "first experiment" was successfully finished and the experimenters passed contentedly to their next class. AFM

Exchange Club Sponsors FFA Show

A spectacular "fair" will be held this afternoon and evening (Thursday) Sept. 24th, by the F. F. A. boys of A. C. S. and the 4-H Club under the direction of the Andover Exchange Club. If the weather is considered favorable, the fair will be held outside, if adverse, the show will be held in the school gymnasium. The band will furnish music and two movies relating to agricultural subjects will be shown.

An F. F. A. horsemanship contest and an F. F. A. judging contest of livestock, potatoes and poultry will take place this afternoon. It is expected four schools will enter the latter contest, Wellsville, Scio, Whitesville and Andover.

Entries will be made in this fair according to division, such as livestock, poultry, vegetables, potatoes, hay show, sheaves of cereals, forage and silage. An outstanding attraction will be a vegetable and poultry auction, with John Lever as auctioneer.

Atty. R. J. Sootheran, president of the Andover Exchange Club, Lou Burton, County 4-H Agent; Principal Glenn Bretsch and Carl Friblin are busily engaged in preparing for this event. The student committee consists of Richard Ludden, president of the F. F. A.; Dewey Northrup, Pat Lynch and Francis Horan.

The public is cordially invited to attend the show. There is no admission fee. WG

"I Did It"

I crept cautiously out of the building. Safe, at last. No one had seen me. I looked stealthily about me and halted. Careful, now. "No noise and you won't be seen." I advanced gingerly to the object of my interest.

I hesitated. Should I? Alas, if only I had someone with whom I could confidentially discuss this immediate problem!

I straightened up. "I'll do it!" Bravely, I ascended the steps in front of me. There was not a doubt left in my mind. Without looking around, I seated myself at the head of the steps. With a whoop of joy I went whizzing down. Hurrah! I was happy again. As I gleefully picked myself up at the bottom I said, aloud: "I've done it—taken my last ride on the slide!" AM

"Dunno. My wife is chairman of the board."

Potato Picking Vacation Oct. 5-12

After consulting with many of the farmers in the central school district, the school authorities have set the week of October 5-10 with the additional holiday on Columbus Day, October 12, as a school vacation, so that school pupils might help at home in harvesting the potato crop.

Although some of the commercial growers are digging this week and next, the average general farmer has had to postpone potato digging because of threshing and corn cutting.

Boys fourteen years of age or over, who have been in regular attendance through this week and who are doing satisfactory scholastic work, may be excused from school next week for potato picking upon written application by the parent to the school office. All school work thus lost must be made up in order to secure credit. Excuses from school may be denied if the pupil's school work or previous attendance have been unsatisfactory or if the pupil is carrying extra subjects.
