

Local Happenings

Regular meeting of Relief Corps this Saturday night.

Miss Sally Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jones is very ill at her home.

The Woodruff Cheese Co. is building a cold storage for cheese on their property on Dyke street.

The address of Mrs. Hattie B. Eggleston is Cincinnati, New York, in care of Mrs. Ralph Bennett.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard McAndrew of Wellsville have moved into the Atwood apartment on Pleasant avenue.

Real winter weather this morning with the snow and slippery roads a reminder that we are still living in Allegheny county.

Rev. and Mrs. A. W. MacDougal are building a garage on the property which they recently purchased on Barney street.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Ordway have rented the house vacated by Mrs. Hattie B. Eggleston and will move there from the Joyce house on Chestnut street.

The King's "Daughters of the Presbyterian church will serve their annual dinner of roast pork with dressing, cafeteria style, at the church Thursday evening, Nov. 19.

Mrs. Orla Baker entertained the Pinocchio Club at her home Friday evening. Miss Mary Kathryn Cannon received first honors and Mrs. John W. Cannon and Mrs. Edward Walsh second high.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Osborne of Maple street entertained at a birthday dinner for their mother, Mrs. Nora T. Hackett Monday evening. Mr. and Mrs. James Mulholland were among the guests.

A card from "Kit" McGill states that they are now permanently located at 47 Cherry Street, Holyoke, Mass. "We read the Andover News every week and surely do enjoy reading it from cover to cover."

The Central Allegheny Red Cross representatives have re-elected Mrs. Edmund K. Kline of Cuba as chairman; Mrs. Ivan G. Howe, Angelica, vice chairman; Mrs. Fenton Weaver, Cuba, secretary, and Lynn Gleason, Fillmore, treasurer.

Cuba had the second mysterious Halloween fire this year when a barn on the Grove farm burned shortly before midnight. Last year a barn on Prospect street in that village also mysteriously burned. A quantity of hay, straw and farm machinery were destroyed with the Grove barn.

The S. D. Baptist Ladies' Aid Society held their November needlework and social meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Dan Witter on Rochambeau avenue with a good attendance including three guests, Mrs. A. J. C. Bond of Alfred, Mrs. Davis of Verona and Mrs. Lynn Langworthy of Alfred. Mrs. Bond gave a comprehensive talk on the work and plans of the Woman's Board of the church. A fine dinner and social hour followed.

Mrs. H. E. Lehman is very ill at her home on Water street.

The O. E. S. fair and supper, held Monday at Masonic temple, was very successful in every way.

Mr. Crandall, father of Mrs. Clarence Snedeker of Water street, is gaining from several days illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter Richardson are moving the 15th from Second street to the Williams house on Dyke street.

County Legion to Meet at Alfred

The November meeting of the Allegheny County American Legion and Auxiliary will be held in Alfred next Thursday evening, Nov. 19th.

County Relief Costs Continues to Drop

Belmont, Nov. 7.—Almost no employable persons are now receiving home relief benefits from Allegheny county at the present time only such individuals as are unable to work and support themselves.

Where usually home relief costs begin to mount at this season of the year when recipients must buy winter clothing and fuel, a still further reduction is shown by figures made public Friday by Dr. I. G. Howe, county commissioner of public welfare.

In October the cost of such assistance was $5,327.65 compared with $5,424.34 in September.

WANDERING WITH WILLIE

THE following story about one of the boys in Uncle Sammy's forces is graphically outlined about just how the army life is (This is all inside dope just released). We tell it to you Andover fellows just so you can do a little reminiscing on what you have been thru and what is yet to come. Here it is:

I was one of the fellows who made the world safe for Democracy. What a crazy thing that was. I fought, and I fought, and I fought—but I had to go anyway. I was called in Class A. The next time I want to be in Class B.

I remember when I registered. I went up to the desk and the man in charge was my milkman. He said: "What's your name?" I said, "You know my name." He barked, "What's your name?" so I told him "August Childs." He said, "Are you an alien?" "No I feel fine." He asked me where I was born and I told him "Pittsburgh." Then he said, "When did you first see the light of day?" I said, "When we moved to Philadelphia." He asked me how old I was and I told him "23 the first of September." He said "The first of September you will be overseas and that will be the last of August."

The day I went to camp I guess they didn't think I'd live long. The first fellow I saw wrote on my card "Flying Corps." I went a little farther and some fellow said, "Look what the wind blew in" and I said, "Wind nothin', the draft's doin' it."

On the second morning they put those clothes on me. What an outfit. As soon as you're in them you think you can fight anybody. I couldn't sit down. The shoes were so large that I turned around three times and they didn't move. And what a raincoat they gave me. It strained the rain. I passed an Officer all dressed up with a funny belt and all that stuff and he said, calling after me, "Didn't you notice my uniform?" I replied "Yes, but what are you kicking about? Look what they gave me!"

Oh, it was really nice. Five below one morning and they called us out for underwear inspection. You talk about scenery—red flannels, BVD's, all kinds. The union suit I had on would fit Tony Galento. The Lieutenant called and lined us up and then he told me to "Stand Up." "I am, Sir," I replied, "this underwear makes me look like I'm sitting down"—He got so mad that he put me to digging a ditch. A little while later he passed me and said, "Don't throw that dirt up here." I said, "Where am I going to put it?" He said "Dig another hole and put it there."

Three days later we sailed. Marching down the pier I had some more luck. I had a Sergeant who stuttered and it took him so long to say "Halt!" that 27 of us marched overboard. They pulled us out and lined us up on the pier and the Captain came by and said "Fall in." I replied, "I have been in, Sir."

I was on the boat for 18 days. Seaside also for 18 days, nothing going down and everything going up. Leaned over the rail all the time. In the middle of one of the best leans the Captain rushed up and said, "What company are you in?" I said, "I'm all by myself." He asked if the Brigadier was up yet and I replied "If I swallowed it, it's up." The clerk for me. Talk about your dumb people, I said to one of the fellows, "I guess we've dropped anchor." He said, "I knew they'd lose it, the damn thing's been hanging out ever since we left New York."

Well, we landed at our destination O. K. and were immediately sent to the trenches. The cannons started to roar and the shells started to pass. I was shaking with patriotism. I tried to hide behind a tree, but there wasn't even enough trees left for the officers. The captain came around and said, "Five o'clock we go over the top." I said "I'd like a furlough." He said, "Haven't you any red blood in your veins?" I said, "Yes, but I don't want to see it."

Five o'clock we went over the top. Ten thousand Germans came at us. The way they looked at me, you'd think I was the one who started the war. Our Captain yelled, "Fire at will"—but I didn't know anyone by that name. I guess the fellow behind me thought I was Will. He fired his gun and shot me in the excitement.

WE were at a little party recently given in honor of one of Andover's mighty fishermen. Oddly enough one of the gifts he received was a plaque bearing the inscription "Behold the Fisherman." The inscription, which follows, would do fine for others (and himself) now that the hunting season is here. It read:

"He riseth up early in the morning and disturbeth the whole household. Mighty are his preparations. He goeth forth full of hope, and when the day is far spent he returneth, smelling of strong drink . . . and the truth is not in him."

NOW that our old friend Private "Mike" Honegger is in the army we pass on to you one of his final statements: "I always wanted" said "Mike" "to have a job where I could always have the last word and the Army is just that job. No matter what the big shots say I can end 'er up with either 'Yes, Sir,' or 'No, sir.' Happy landings, 'Mike.'"

"CHUCK" Holt has woes, oodles of woes, between tire inspection, junk salvage and more woes. But to make a long story short and the cause of "Chuck" pulling out seven ounces of blonde hair, a fellow came into the garage the other day and after while told "Chuck" that he couldn't understand why the government wanted serial numbers of tires as he looked his all over and the numbers on every one of them were exactly alike—16x600.

Gere Will Again Head Christmas Seal Campaign

Frank L. Gere has been re-appointed as county chairman of the Christmas Seal Campaign of the Allegheny Health and Tuberculosis Association, Rev. M. H. Sangree, president of the association has announced.

"Due to the emergency facing the anti-tuberculosis campaign—the threatened wartime rise in tuberculosis—we have been getting our plans under way early for the 1942 Seal sale," said Mr. Gere.

"Every effort must be made to have the coming Seal Sale the most successful ever held in Allegheny county. The association will need additional funds during 1943 in order to carry out the expanded program now planned to keep tuberculosis under control during wartime."

The Seal Sale will open Monday, Nov. 23, and continue until Christmas.

The Guide on the OUTDOORS

The FACTORS AFFECTING THE ABUNDANCE OF A SPECIES ARE OFTEN VERY COMPLEX. HERES A CLASSIC EXAMPLE: A MARSHY NEW YORK STATE POND PRODUCED A GOOD CROP OF BLACK DUCKS. FEW DUCKLINGS WERE EATEN BY SNAPPING TURTLES BECAUSE A COLONY OF SKUNKS KEPT THE SNAPPERS IN CHECK BY EATING THEIR EGGS (A FAVORITE SKUNK DELICACY). BUT THE PRICE OF SKUNK FUR SOARED AND THE SKUNKS WERE TRAPPED OFF. THE TURTLES THEN INCREASED AND TOOK SUCH TOLL OF DUCKLINGS THAT THE DUCKS QUIT USING THE POND. FINALLY THE TURTLES WERE CAUGHT FOR FOOD PURPOSES AND ONCE MORE THE POND PRODUCED A DUCK CROP!
