(Mrs. Floyd Clarke, Reporter)

21—Mrs. John Lewis spent one blessed Christmas and Mrs. Cary Rogers and her guests Friday of Mr. and Richard Goodliff in Wellsville. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hale returned home from Niagara Falls where they were called recently by the illness of their granddaughter, Nancy Hale. Mrs. Anna Stephens went to Hornell last week to spend a few days with her sister, Mrs. Mattie Baker. Mrs. Stephens nephew, Westley Baker, enters the service this week. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hale were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Cummings and family of Colby Creek Sunday. Kathleen, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Mullen and Jane, another daughter, have been real-sick with colds the past week. Mrs. Raymond Stewart was shopping in Hornell last Tuesday, and also visited Mrs. Charles Wood and Rev. Barber of that place. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hale, Mrs. Raymond Stewart and three children were callers in Hornell Thursday evening. William, Wilfred and Francis Radcliff visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Radcliff of Alma, Pa. School will close Wednesday at noon for Christmas vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hale called on Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stewart and family Saturday evening. Dec. 22, and winter, we are wondering just what the sub-zero weather of last week might be called—anyway it made a good showing in the wood piles, left several frozen water pipes and drains, and as the old fellow in "Elmer" the comic strip says "dern such weather."

Whitesville

(Mrs. Ella Millsbaugh, Reporter)

Wishing all a Merry Christmas. A Christmas program will be given in the high school auditorium Monday evening. The Methodist church and Bible School will observe the Christmas season with a Christmas tree and program in the church Tuesday evening. Saturday was moving day for several families in Whitesville. Richard Vagle and family moved from the former Dr. Taylor home to his fine new rebuilt house on his farm in Hazelton Gully; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wildman moved into the house vacated by the Vagle's, recently purchased of Dr. Taylor and Prin. R. K. Howe moved into the house vacated by the Wildman's and the wind blew and the snow blew and it was a good day to air household goods. Mrs. Fred Williams has been ill the past week with an attack of arthritis in one arm and shoulder. The U. S. mail bus was obliged to make two trips to Wellsville in the A. M. on account of the heavy Christmas mail. While the sun was flirting with the tropic of Capricorn the first of the week, we up here in the Allegheny County Alps were battling snowdrifts and sub-zero temperatures. It was from 22 to 25 below zero here Saturday night and sub-zero all day Sunday. Tuesday was the shortest day of the year.

student just doesn't feel well, while others have more than one excuse. Illegal excuses, so-called because of unnecessary absences, seem very frequent in A. C. S. These are issued, for the most part, to those busy students who do their Christmas shopping or otherwise, during school hours. Many stay home just to rest up from the night before, it seems, and several even admit that in their excuse. From now on, students, let's have our fun outside of school instead of being excused from school to have it. Let's use the hours we get in our class period to study and maintain a higher standard for A. C. S. D.B.

Teachers Are Collectors of Furniture, Animals

The pupils aren't the only ones who have hobbies. This has been proven by a recent survey conducted by two Hi-Herald reporters. The results are as follows: Mr. Maloy: Collects photographs, likes to read "Dagwood." Mr. Fribolin: Collects antique furniture, makes model airplanes. Miss Sequin: Collects hand plates, likes to read poetry. Miss Clarke: Makes scrap books. Miss Rectenwald: Enjoys knitting, music and hiking. Miss Kuhn: Enjoys knitting, crocheting, tating and reading. Miss Jordan: Is busy collecting miniature horses. Miss Hussong: Likes music. Mrs. McKibben: Collects toy animals. Miss Jaekle: Makes scrap books of her brother, and enjoys reading. Miss Sherwood: Keeps busy writing letters. Miss Heinzelman: Likes photography. Miss Snyder: Writes poetry; likes dancing. Mr. Ingerson: Has a mania for collecting stamps, and likes to build airplanes. Miss Colberg: Is interested in collecting penguins, and likes to read French novels. Miss Mahl: Is adept at sewing and dancing. Miss Zeil: Likes to go to theaters, and likes reading, listening to the radio, bowling and all sports. Mrs. Greene: Likes bowling. Mr. Bretsch: Very interested in bowling and target shooting. Miss Hanneman: Likes horseback riding. Miss Anderson: Collects books. Miss Baker: Collects all sizes of elephant figurines. Mrs. Allen: Listens to radio and likes to read.

French I Class Celebrates Xmas

The French I class has been rejoicing in fine Christmas spirit this year. Members of the class have been making Christmas cards, some of which are on display on the bulletin board, and singing many of the Christmas songs which are dear to the hearts of the French people. Among these are "Cantique de Noel," the exquisitely beautiful Christmas carol, favorite of choirs the world over, "Un Flambeau Jeannette, Isabella," and "Marche des Rois," ("March of the Kings.") They have also compiled a list of French Christmas gifts, some of which have French names and most of which are made by French manufacturers.

Grade News

The kindergarten teacher, Miss Rectenwald, reports $9.25 as the war stamp total for this week. Louise Miller and Carol Brown, kindergarten pupils have recently started purchasing stamps. The kindergarteners have a new piece of equipment in their room. A "Jungle Gym" has been in use since Thanksgiving. This consists of ladders which the children climb. The climbing develops muscles, but Miss Rectenwald says the "gym" serves as a house, too. Mrs. Allen's first grade has purchased $2.20 in war stamps this week. This is the lowest weekly amount this year. Geraldine Hepworth from Wellsville has recently become a member of this group. The fourth grade is decorating a tree and has made posters for Christmas. Miss Elliot's third grade has a total of $11.00 in war stamps for the entire year. This room also

They were Suzanne and Carrine Hyland. An interesting bulletin board is on display in this room, illustrating how rubber tires are made. Thursday morning at the Christmas party in Miss Jordan's room the losing team, with Bobby Carpenter as leader will treat the team of Ernestine Witter as a result of a recent arithmetic contest. An attractive bulletin board is also displayed in Miss Jordan's room. It is that of a Guardian Angel watching over America.

Mrs. Schwarzenbach, teacher of the sixth grade, is ill and Mrs. Louis Joyce is substituting for her. Joan Woodruff is chairman for the Christmas party. A great many pupils have joined the American Junior Red Cross in Miss Jaekle's room. Twenty four pupils are also buying war saving stamps and four pupils have war savings bonds. Mrs. McKibben has a novel method of rating her honor roll students. It is called "War Rating" and each time a pupil is on the honor roll he is promoted to the next highest rank. Those who already have ranks are: Staff Sergt. James Smith
