- 1 -Don't Blame the Girls

We hear many complaints about local telephone service these days . . . and there seems to be a general tendency to blame the young ladies at the switchboard because of delays that ensue.

Yet we wonder if those who blame the difficulties on the operators know that the public, and not the operators are at fault?

Try as they may, the telephone companies have so far been unsuccessful in securing new equipment, yet the poor girls who get the blame are required to handle 125 per cent more calls than they did a few years ago.

So, when you can't get the number you want, or central says she will call you as soon as she can get a line through to Hudson, Albany or New York, try and be a little patient, and realize the young ladies are not napping or visiting but are just merely swamped with your conversations.
