You say, "Oh, Just another mark," but is it really just a mark; if so why bother to get it at all? We must realize a symbol of what we can and did do. If it is a good mark or poor, if we have honestly done our best, we can be proud of our mark. On the other view-if we didn't do our best even the best mark shouldn't pacify

Often when we get a good mark we think we don't need to study any more, that we have learned all there is to know, but we haven't. By Jim Conde As I look at college I can honestly see a need of it for every boy and girl. For within a very few years and with the increase technological unemployment few jobs will be open without specialized training.

There are many fields in which one may specialize. New fields as atomic power and aeron-_autics. and older fields such as engineering and teaching offer challenging futures.

t seems to me that with such a large number of fields to choose from, that there must be at least. one field which can hold the intereach student ready for college.

One must realize that the exrense of college is terrific and for any one going it is a great hardship. But there is little doubt starting on the long climb to suc-
