Grange News

We were very fortunate to have as our guest speaker, Mr. Kessler, Principal of our Central School. His throughness in discribing the alterations and addit ions of the new school proposal were appreciated. Due to seeing by way of diagrams, the actua. changes for the betterment of the entire school enrollment and the additions should prove to be to the advantage of the entire community. Tonight is the meeting each and every member of our school district should attend. Go TA that had to be cancelled, has rescheduled for Thursday, March and find out the whys and wherefores of this vital program. It is the request of the Grange that anyone having any legal papers belonging to the Grange. the same should be brought the next regular Grange meeting, March 12. March 2 at 8:15 P. M. there will be degree practice for the First Sgt. Barnett Bostick, who was stationed at LaRochelle, France. and Second Degree. Pomona Grange will be held at arrived at For Dix, N. J., Wedthe Petrolia Grange No. 1229,

Denver, Colo. Feb. 20, 1958

Dear Claire: Since hearing of the real old Allegany County winter weather back here I am sending the enclosed clipping from the Denver Post showing the kind of weather we are enjoying here in Denver. We have had a nice mild winter so far with very little snow.. Only about six inches for a total of all Of course in the mountains there has been heavy snow and several people have been killed in avalancould drop in and see it for myself as I used to.

Vic Hoagland

Denver Post — The Denver area basked in springlike weather Thursday, Feb. 20 as a warm sun sent temperatures into the 60s for the second straight day. Denver's high Wednesday at downtown weather station was a record of 67 degrees—the warmest Feb. 19 in the 75 years the bureau has kept records. Previous high for that date was 65 degrees Continued fair skies and little change in temperature were forecast for the area turning to partly cloudy Friday. The low Thursday night was expected to be around 30 and the high Friday Balmy weather was general over much of Rocky Mountains

Empire Thursday and was expected to continue. Forecasts for Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming predicted cloudy to partly cloudy skies and mild tempera-Denver's high Wednesday was 11 degrees warmer than in Miami. Fla., and topped highs in such winter resort cities as New Orleans and San Diego.
