Memorial Poppies Made e- By Disabled Veterans

Memorial poppies which will be . . worn here en Poppy Day, May 30 have been received by Lynch-Burgett Unit of the American Legion Y. where they were made by disabled veterans. The little red flowers are being made ready for distribution by volunteer workers of the Auxiliary.

"The memorial poppy is a crepepaper replica of the wild European poppy which bloomed in profusion on the world war battlefields and cemeteries in Frances and Belgium". The World War I poem, "In Flanders Field", told the world about these poppies, and soon after the war the poppy became
