Wearing the poppy is the important thing! This is the thing to be emphasized. Everyone should understand that the American Legion Auxiliary poppy is worn on Memorial Day as an individual gesture of tribute to those who gave their lives for America.

Of course, the contributions collected on Poppy Day have their importance too. The public should know that money given to the Auxiliary for poppies is used for the benefit of disabled war vetize the Poppy as something more than just another solicitation for funds. They must recognize it as the day when they should remember and honor the service and sacrifice of America's war dead. Getting the public to understand the real meaning of the Poppy is the important and difficult job of the Unit Press Chairman. Although the Poppy story has been told every year for the past thirty-five years it still must be told over again ever year. The public memory is notoriously short and each year there are millions more young Americans who never have been taught about the A continuing educational effort is necessary if Memorial Day is to be observed with under-

News

The Borden Bell Ringers, members of the Antrim Bureau, will be at Greenwood Central School May 29 at 8:50 a.m. for an assembly for Grades K-12.

Charles Kershaw, the only negro professional bell ringer in this country and Emily Luken Brown, a pianist will present a program ir which Kershaw displays unusual collections of bells, narrates their history and significance and plays them to the accompaniment of Mrs. Brown.

Interested parents and friends are invited.

Members of the Hornell Recruitting Service were at Greenwood Central School recently to talk to the Junior and Senior boys about the possibilities of a career in the armed forces.

Groups were formed following the discussions for students who wished to confer with a recruiter. Recruiters were: 1 C Petty Officer Cullen of the Navy, Master Sergeant Hancock, Air Force and Staff Sergeant Wheeler of the Marines.

Robert Hoagland, vice principal was in charge of the program.

Valencia Greene was crowned May Queen by Gerald Quick at the annual kindergarten Maypole Festival May 22 at Greenwood Central School in the auditorium.

The program opened with a processional led by Frank Chase and Donald McCormick, followed by the Children of the Court and Maypole dancers. The Maypole dancers sang "To Our Queen". The program closed with the wind-
