With our merry noon-time play. One of the first things to which our pioneers' energies were directed was the erection of schols and churches. And so, quite naturally, the log school house became an institution distinctly associated with the pioneer period. It was indeed the Alma Mater of many boys and girls who went forth into the world with what most people of today would consider the merest apology of an education, but who, nevertheless, worthily filled the positions to which they were called. And so, it is perhaps fitting that we reflect for a moment on the log school house of our ancestors, and the life that surrounded it. We shall refer only to school life as it was in Allegany County. not the best source of iron to In other localities some things make you strong.
