Selective Service College Qualification Test To Be Given Thursday, April 18

Applications for the Selective Service College Qualification Test to be given on Thursday, April 18 are now available to college students at Local Board 71, 48 Schuyler Street, Belmont, N. Y., Claire Backus, Chairman, has announced. If it is inconvenient for a registrant to call at this office he may obtain his application or information concerning the test from any Selective Service local board. Applications for the test must be postmarked no later than midnight, Thursday, March 28th. The test will be given at the following examination centers in New York State:

- Alfred, Alfred University
- Binghamton, Broome Technical Community College
- Buffalo, Canisius College
- Brooklyn, Brooklyn College
- Buffalo, University of Buffalo
- Clinton, Hamilton College
- Flushing, Queens College of the City of New York
- Fredonia, State University College

- Geneva, Hobart College
- Hamilton, Colgate University
- Hempstead, Hofstra College
- Houghton, Houghton College
- Ithaca, Cornell University
- Middletown, Orange County Community College
- New York, Columbia University
- New York, Manhattan College
- Niagara Falls, Niagara University
- Onaonta, Hartwick College

- Potsdam, Clarkson College of Technology
- Rochester, Rochester Institute of Technology
- Rochester, University of Rochester
- Schenectady, Union College and University
- Syracuse, Syracuse University
- Troy, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute

Students registered with Selective Service in the State of New York who are attending college outside of the State should contact the proper authorities at the college for information on applications for the test and testing sites.

Scores made on the test will provide local boards with evidence of aptitude for continued undergraduate and graduate study. The scores will not of themselves determine eligibility for deferment, but are considered with other information by the boards in determining whether to defer individual registrants for further study. The test, used since 1951 to aid local boards in determining questions of student deferment, is administered for the 1962-63 school year by Science Research Associations, McHenry, Illinois.

To be eligible to take the test, the applicant must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course, undergraduate or graduate level, leading to a degree. He need not be a student of a 4-year college, but his entire course of study must be satisfactory for transfer of credits to a degree-granting institution.

The applicant must be a Selective Service registrant who intends to seek deferment as a student. He can take the test only once.

"At the present time, New York local boards reach men for induction at about age 23", Chairman Backus said. "Students generally can be nearly through their undergraduate studies at that age. But those planning to continue studies in graduate school, for example, will need a deferment to do so. Heavier draft calls would lower the age at which local boards reach men for induction, and deferments might be necessary to finish undergraduate work."

In either case a test score in the file will give the local board an additional piece of important information to use in determining whether a registrant is eligible for a student deferment.

"Beautiful, simply beautiful," said Mr. Hoover in 1908

Styles Have Changed, but Hoover's pride in quality hasn't. And it won't.

When this first Hoover was finished back in 1908, Mr. Hoover looked at it with something close to love.. "Beautiful, simply beautiful, he said.

Women who cleaned carpets and rugs with these early models soon came to agree with Mr. Hoover. Compared with the Hoovers of today, they were a little clumsy and the motor was fairly noisy.

but what a job of cleaning they did!

Hoover Cleaners today are more streamlined and quieter running. But we're still engineering that old fashioned quality of long, dependable life into every Hoover. Although not the lowest priced vacuum on the market, years from now you'll still be cleaning with the Hoover you buy today.
