Library News

April 21 - 28
NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK
 National Library Week is celebrated on April 21-28. It is then that we all focus particular attention on our local library.
 Andover is most fortunate in having such an outstanding library. Serving the immediate and many outlying areas, it offers a large and varied selection of fiction and non-fiction literature. This includes specially selected reading material for children and young adults. Magazines are available and there is a large variety of up-to-date reference books.
 The newest addition to our library is the Record Department. The equipment was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Herald Ford in memory of Susie Hayes Ford. Since this, new chairs and a large number of records have been donated by various people. The Columbia-Record Company has also donated a large number of records.
 Why not join with your neighbors and make use of one of Andover's greatest assets, The Andover Free Library.
