"THE LITTLE THINGS"

Too often we forget, or rather neglect, the smallest aspects of common courtesy. For instance we fail to observe our first lessons in manners and respect, such as a civil tongue, a pleasant hello, or opening a door.

We think, "why should I bother? My opening a door for a girl or teacher is not going to shake the world. I've got more important things to do." Perhaps a pleasant hello won't shake the world, but it's the little things that people remember. They won't remember whether or not you got an "A" on a five-week English theme, or whether you scored the highest in last Tuesday's baseball game. However, they will remember the little things; the kindness and consideration shown to them. People are funny. They couldn't care less about you. They'll only recall how pleasant and courteous you were with them.

Remember this. If they have pleasant memories, then they'll recall the more important facts of your personality, all of which stem from your accumulative observation of the "little things"—the important things.

Senior Interview

On June 28, 1943, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Meyn of 26 Second Street became the proud parents of a daughter, Connie Lee Meyn. Connie has one sister, Marianne, who is in the eighth grade.

Throughout high school, Connie has majored in science. She has also participated in several activities. For two years, she has been a member of Library Council and Chorus and for four years she has been a band member. Connie played the part of a high school student in the junior class play and in the senior play she portrayed Amy, a college student. In 1960, Connie was an Exchange Student to Guayaquil, Ecuador. Being a member of the Lutheran Church at Wellsville, she has sung in the church choir for four years and has been a member of the Lutheran Walther League for three years.

Among Connie's favorites we find: food, Italian foods; color, blue; subject, bookkeeping; pastime, listening to music; song, "Autumn Leaves"; book, "Gone With The Wind"; sport, swimming and saying, "Oh, darn!"; Her pet peeve is "people who are thoughtless of others" and her philosophy of life is the Golden Rule.

Upon graduation Connie plans to attend the Arnot-Ogden Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in Elmira where she has been accepted.

FHA News

Twenty-one member of the Andover Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America (FHA) attended the Annual Spring Rally for Central Western District B at Cuba Central School on Wednesday, April 24th.

The girls were accompanied by their advisor, Mrs. Jeanette Horan. The theme of the Rally was "Thinking Day For FHA". The girls elected District Officers for next year and exchanged ideas and "thoughts for the day" with girls from the other area chapters.

The Andover Chapter assisted in the program by having Donna Brown, Jean Harvey, and Connie Sisson submit Roll Call. Jane Nichols was the voting delegate and Vicki Lynch registered at the Rally.

Prior to the Rally, the Andover FHA girls, along with the Alfred Almond FHA made name tags to be used at Cuba.

Assembly

The students and faculty enjoyed an Assembly Tuesday morning presented by two representatives from General Motors.

Candid Camera

Well, the Juniors had a very successful play. After it, I saw that Doug Muirholland's house was packed with the Juniors and their guests. Only I saw Doug make a mad dash for the stairs. What was the big hurry, Doug? Did you bend over too far?

I hear Don Harvey went shopping the other night. How about that Don? Did your ham taste good?

Saturday night I noticed many people in Wellsville. How about that Billy F. and ???, Janet and Jim, Ssielt, Judy C., Mike B., Melinda, Cheryl, Bill C., Don H., Bob V., Jon C., Jim G., Don G., Karl, Mary Ann, Bonnie F. and Bob M. Jean H., Lynne C., Larry C., and Ira C.?

Sunday seemed to be a good day for taking a ride. How about that Donny and Jim C., Jim G. and John S., Charlie, Danny, Don H., Jon C., Bob V., Anne M., Jackie, Dianne, Judy, Janis, Karl, Jack, and many others. Usually, I see the boys going down the road too fast, but for some reason this week they were going too slow. Jimmy seems to like those cars from Wayne!

Purple And White

In the "Swim and Stay Fit Program" we have swum 2,300 miles. We are now in Eagle Rock, Utah. A scrapbook of articles and letters is being made.

Thursday, the Andover baseball season opens with a game against Belmont, here. Let's all come and cheer the team to victory! The boys are in the swimming pool and the girls in the gym.

Senior News

A brilliant idea has come to me! What do you do when a light bulb flickers and goes out? After you finish muttering to yourself, I suppose you run to the store and get another one. Since it isn't always possible to trot off and buy a bulb when one burns out, and a candle doesn't offer much of a solution, take my advice. You can help yourself and someone else by buying a supply of light bulbs from any needy Senior now. For 25c or a pack of four 100's for a $1.00 you can furnish your home with sufficient lighting at anytime. So get out your lamp now and "fill 'er up" from any Senior!

 Pet Peeves At Home

What are some of your pet peeves about your family? Here are some views from students in other schools:

Many students are peeved at parents who expect them to get all A's in school, join all worthwhile organizations and then wonder why they are so quick-tempered.

Another pet-peeve is lack of privacy. Whether it is a room of your own or talking on the telephone everyone likes privacy. Others become peeved when parents denounce them for listening to rock 'n roll. Music changes with generations and everyone is entitled to his own tastes.
