

THE FREEDOM OF THE PRESS IS BASIC TO ALL-YOUR AMERICAN FREEDOMS! Only as your Newspaper is free to print the facts, can you be free to know them. Only as you know the facts, can you act wisely in the best interests of your Community, as you see them. In America, there is plenty of room for opinions. THERE IS NO ROOM FOR RESTRICTIONS ON THE PEOPLE'S RIGHT TO KNOW THE TRUTH!

HERE TODAY, GONE TOMORROW

Now is the season of the year when itinerant salesmen blossom forth like the buds on an apple tree. And now is the time when many unsuspecting homeowners are taken in by the unscrupulous ones which have no reason to care about the service of any job since they (the salesmen and their helpers) will be far away when the job is found to be below expectations.

Don't let these fancy low prices fool you. Investigate well before you fall for their line. And remember this. The local merchant and businessman must be able to face you any day in the future, so he must be prepared to stand behind his product and his work. The same can't be said of the fellow who is here today and gone tomorrow.

EVEN FDR URGED ENDING RELIEF

"The lessons of history, confirmed by the evidence immediately before me, show exclusively that continued dependence upon relief induces a spiritual and moral disintegration fundamentally destructive of the national fibre.

"To dole out relief in this way is to administer a narcotic, a subtle destroyer of the human spirit. It is in violation of the traditions of America. Work must be found for able-bodied but destitute workers. The federal government must and shall quit this business of relief."

You are bound to be surprised when you learn who made the above statement. It was President Franklin D. Roosevelt. But ever since he made it in 1935 the federal government has pursued the opposite course by getting deeper and deeper into the "business of relief." Welfare expenditures today are 10 times what they were in 1935.

During the last 11 years, alone, these payments skyrocketed from $4.9 billion annually to $37.3 billion a year. Washington should lose no time in getting the government out of the relief business by restoring welfare responsibilities to states and communities.

POTENTIAL HAZARDS

The American Medical Association reports that accidental poisonings, mostly in the home, have become one of the major causes of accidents in America, particularly to small children. And, it adds, no wonder—a quarter of a million products used in the home and in industry are potentially hazardous.

The products aren't to blame—they serve wanted, useful and essential purposes. The fault lies in the way they are handled.

The AMA offers a set of simple rules to prevent poisoning in the home. Here they are:

Keep all drugs, poisonous substances and household chemicals out of reach of children. Do not transfer poisonous substances to unlabeled containers. Never re-use containers of chemical substances. Do not leave discarded medicines where children or pets might get at them. Never tell children you are giving them candy when you actually are giving them medicine. Read the labels before using chemical products. Never give or take medicines in the dark.

Another important stricture is that speed is essential to stop absorption of a poison. If possible, one person should begin first aid while another calls a physician. And the poison container with its label and remaining contents should be saved and given to the physician or the hospital.

The final point is that prevention is much easier than treatment. Take a look around your home for potential hazards and correct them—today.

Letter To The Editor

To the Editor:

Our Republican Congressman, Charles E. Goodell of Jamestown recently voted against restoring $450 million in accelerated public works funds, calling it "wasteful" and "illogical". How a Congressman who represents a depressed area of chronic and persistent unemployment (Chautauqua, Cattaraugus, Allegany and Steuben Counties) could forget the welfare of his people is not only disappointing, but shameful. Fortunately, the House approved the $450 million, despite Mr. Goodell's opposition to President Kennedy's program.

The primary purpose of the Accelerated Public Works Act is to get as many workers as possible back on the job quickly by "accelerating" job-generating public works of federal, state and community governments in areas of high unemployment such as our own.

A close look at the record reveals that Chautauqua, Cattaraugus and Allegany Counties have already received a considerable amount of help from the first portion of President Kennedy's program. In Chautauqua County, federal monies were obtained for Jamestown General Hospital ($261,000), City of Dunkirk water project ($470,000), Roblin-Seaway Industries in Dunkirk ($1,458,374.00) and the Flakeboard plant in Frewsburg ($319,000), making a total of $2,448,874.00. The City of Jamestown has recently filed applications for two additional projects; the improvement of its sewage treatment facilities and a new street lighting project for downtown Jamestown. These two applications total $617,500.00.

In Cattaraugus County, $991,000 in federal aid is helping projects in Olean and Little Valley (Correctional Institute). In Allegany County, $344,900.00 in federal aid is being used to improve sewage treatment facilities in Cuba and Bolivar. Many other communities in Mr. Goodell's congressional district are currently hard at work on such projects which they hope to finance, in part, by such public works funds. Certainly after local governments have gone to great expense preparing such projects, they simply should not be cut off. Congressman Goodell, in voting against the funds for public works, is apparently opposed to such improvements.

I am hopeful that Mr. Goodell will put aside his personal public relations program that he has been conducting since he attained office, and begin working for us. I firmly believe that Congressman Goodell is capable of providing us with the kind of progressive leadership our district needs. I can never quite understand why our Mr. Goodell chooses to hide behind the false screen of ultra-conservatism. I am convinced that he is not the conservative he professes to be, excepting that, at the moment, this false claim is improving his personal position in Republican ranks.

I am hopeful that in the near future, Congressman Goodell will come forward with a positive and realistic plan that will be truly beneficial to our area, as well as to our country.

Sincerely yours,
R. THEODORE SMITH

Green Thumb Tips

One vegetable that should be grown in shade is garden sorrel. Delicious as a green vegetable; the foundation for a gourmet soup; the acidity in the leaves increases when the plants are grown in hot sun. This is the reason for giving it a shaded location.

Food for birds is particularly necessary in late winter when natural supplies are at a low point. Remember that the birds that come to your feeders are apt to spend the summer riding your garden of insects.

Make up your mind that crabgrass will not be a pest in your garden this year. Investigate NOW the various pre-emergence controls, decide which kind best suits your lawn and conditions, and apply it as early in spring as manufacturer's directions permit.

Looking for a green edging for a bed or border? Grow perennial candytuft from seeds and you've found your edging. Leaves are green all year long. Flowers may be pure white or pinkish-white depending on the species you buy.

The homemaker who longs for a new vegetable should try growing okra in the garden. Small, tender pods may be used in soups, dipped in batter and fried, or combined with tomatoes for a vegetable stew.

Onion sets, which are really tiny onions, may be planted just as soon as the ground dries a little. There's no need to prepare the soil, just poke the sets into the ground with your finger. Before you know it, the sets will have grown into green onions for table use.
