Mrs. John Billings, Reporter
 July 30—Mrs. Erway and children and Mrs. Roslyn Monroe and son, Edward, visited Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Monroe. Baby Edward remained with his grandparents for three days while they were on Farm Tours in Washington, D. C., and in Virginia. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Billings and girls have moved to their new

In the picture on the left, figure No. 1 shows a perfectly good 3 wire service which a Village Board Member reported should be changed at a board meeting several months ago because "the lady of the house didn't like the looks of the service." In the picture on the right, figure No. 2 shows the new 3 wire spun cable that was run around 120 feet to the residence shortly after that board meeting. The wire as well as the 3 or 4 hours labor was done of course at the Village expense. Photos by Wittie

This picture shows a close-up of a 3 wire service to another residence that the same Trustee know about as well as several village employees which is down-right dangerous as the bracket is completely pulled loose and is being held there by the top wire which is badly frayed and is resting on the wires entering the pig-tail. farm on the Shovel Hollow Road. Trooper and Mrs. Joseph Granic have moved into their new home, the former Earl Greene farm. Terry Monroe and son, Jeff visited their parents and grandparents Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Monroe. David Billings is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Beckwith of Elm Valley, this week. A man glances at the household wall clock for the time, gets in his car and looks at the car clock which seems fast, glares at his wrist watch which seems slow and then turns on the car radio to await a station break.

Appreciation

We have a motto in our home, "Life has no blessing like a good friend." I believe friends should be plural. It seems that only in times of trouble do we fully appreciate the value of our friends. My family join me in thanking each of my friends whose prayers, visits and cards of sympathy and encouragement were so helpful during my recent illness. Milford Crandall

We don't know how much tired blood there is in our social circle, but we do know there's plenty of love.

After

Cole-Thorp

Miss Sharon Thorp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Thorp of Andover, N. Y., became the bride of William Cole of Wellsville on Monday, July 10, 1963 at 1 p. m. Rev. Alfred Gross of the Methodist Church performed the double-ring ceremony in the Presbyterian Church. The bride was attired in a white nylon dress with white lace gloves and hat. She carried a bouquet of carnations. Charlene Baker and David Thorp were the attendants for the couple. Miss Baker was attired in a blue lace sheath dress with matching overskirt. She also carried a bouquet of carnations. A small reception was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride for the immediate family. After a trip to Niagara Falls and Rochester, Mr. Cole returned to Orleans, France, where he will be stationed until November. Mrs. Cole will remain with her parents until he is discharged.

Appreciation

I wish to thank all my friends who sent cards and gifts to me, also the many kindnesses extended my family while I was in the hospital. They were all deeply appreciated.
