

HAPPENINGS of Local Interest

W. Clyde Yorton, District Grand Lecturer and Mrs. Yorton, Mrs. Cleon Clarke and Mrs. Gerald Hann attended a rescheduled Official Visit of the District Grand Officers to Buttrick Chapter in Bolivar on Tuesday evening, September 10th, and also all delegates to the Grand Chapter Session of the OES to be held at the Hotel Astor in New York City on October 8th, 9th and 10th. Plans were completed at this meeting and it was estimated that around 30 from the District would be attending.

R. W. Clyde Yorton, D. G. L., and Mrs. Jeanne Gibney, D. D. G. M., were hosts to a 1 o'clock picnic dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Yorton on Saturday, September 7th. Guests present were the Matrons, Patrons, Associate Matrons, husbands and wives of the 12 Chapters in Allegany County.

Allegany County Soccer Officials met Monday night at Belmont Central School. The "C" league shows Andover, Belmont, Friendship, Fillmore, Scio and Alfred-Almond. Actually, Alfred-Almond is a "B" league school, but will play in the "C" league.

Batavia downed Jamestown 7-3 to win playoff championship of NYP League for the first time in 17 years. Neither Auburn nor Wellsville, the 1-2 teams during regular season could make the finals.

Members of the local Home Demonstration Service met at the home of Mrs. Ruth York Friday evening. Mrs. Irene Lynch, president was in charge of the meeting and programs for the ensuing year were presented. Tea and cookies were served by the hostess.

Miss Janet Burger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Burger was among the twenty-two new students admitted to the St. James-Murray Hospital School of Nursing Monday, Sept. 9th. Also with the group is Miss Marilyn Genung, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Genung of Canisteo.

The story can be expected every Sept. "NYP League will fold". Actually, it has come down to a question of the majors operating the circuit. There must be some spots for the youngsters to play. If the majors are favorable, the NYP will continue in 1964 regardless of what happened at the box office.

All furniture and equipment was lost in a blaze which burned the all-negro congregation Church of God and Christ in Friendship early Monday morning. Cause of the fire was not known, but it was suspected the fire had started from faulty wiring or from spontaneous combustion of painting materials members of the congregation had been using in the redecoration project. No damage estimate was announced. The building was not insured.

Members of the L. L. Bridge Club were entertained Tuesday night at a bridge dessert at the home of Mrs. John Lever, Dyke St. High honors were presented to Mrs. Frank Holmes, Mrs. L. F. Hesson and Mrs. W. F. O'Connell.

Mrs. Ruth Brown of Wellsville has been appointed, for a third successive year, to the Professional and Lay Education committee of the New York Heart Assembly. The appointment was announced by Dr. Raymond Harris of Albany, committee chairman. Mrs. Brown has served as vice-president of publicity chairman of the Allegany County chapter of the Heart Assembly. The state committee's first meeting is scheduled for today, September 12th.

Theatre Notes

Friday evening was a big success shocking all the on lookers by nearly filling the seating capacity of the Theatre. The children's free tickets were won by David Ormsby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ormsby, and Elaine Bronson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bronson. Winning the adult ones were Tom Joyce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Joyce and Bobby Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Brown.

Saturday had its usual crowd with ticket winners and they were Allen Cline, son of Jenny Cline and Betty Burch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wellman Burch. Also Ken McClure and Herb Leonard winning the adults.

TB NOT PARTIAL TO YOUTH

A "disease of youth." That's the jaunty phrase, with its faint suggestion of starry-eyed sentiment, that used to be attached with tuberculosis in the minds of many people.

The image was aided by the knowledge that such romantically youthful figures of history as John Keats, Elizabeth Barrett Browning, and Frederic Chopin all suffered from TB.

But now comes the U. S. Public Health Service with a spate of figures to prove that the lung-damaging ailment which strikes about 55,000 new victims in the United States each year has nothing especially "youthful" about it, let alone anything romantic.

Take the group of people no longer young but not yet qualified as senior citizens those between 45 and 61. Their chance of turning up with new cases of active TB, according to USPHS information, is two-and-a-half times as great as that of youngsters roughly classable as adolescents—those aged 15 to 24.

Even more striking, those who have advanced to the "elderly" bracket—65 or over—have a rate of new active TB that's three times as high as the youthful group.

The moral is plain. TB, where present but inactive in the youthful person, can break out in active form when middle or old age is reached. Those now infected should have been protected against exposure in their youth, but many were not.

There's another moral, too. The increased risk with aging underlines the importance of getting a periodic tuberculin test or chest x-ray. The earlier the disease is detected, the easier and more effective is treatment.
