FFA Calf Circle

FFA member receives a calf from the FFA Chapter. He then raises the calf to breeding age. When she freshens the calf, if a heifer is given back to the local chapter. If it is a bull you keep the calf or pay the FFA for the heifer you received, or you wait until your calf freshens again and if it is a heifer you turn it over to the local chapter.

Last Thursday Andover Central School held its 24th Annual School Fair. By all appearances it was successful.

The object of the school fair is to give the agriculture and home-making students experiences in organization and leadership and to give all the students a chance to show off the vegetables, livestock, clothing and baking items that they have grown or made throughout the year. It also promotes good school and community relations.

The fair is financed by donations from the business people in the community. This year over $100.00 was paid out to boys and girls for their exhibits.

The various classes also participate in the fair by setting up concessions and games. The money made by these classes help pay for class expenses including the Senior trip.

The fair provided an enjoyable evening for all and gives the students a worthwhile educational experience.

News That's Print To Fit

Boy, Oh Boy, the frost was really on the pumpkin stuffing on Sunday and Monday nights, so the local gardens and flowers are just a thing of the past as far as productiveness is concerned. Now all that is left is a clean-up job and getting things ready for next spring — so-o-o far away!

The electric power cut-off finally caught up with us Tuesday afternoon although it was only off for around an hour instead of the anticipated two hours that we had been warned about. It seems that the Niagara-Mohawk boys have to have at least one good dry day before working on that real hot stuff with 200,000 volts of over, so they had to wait till the weather cleared up last week-end to cut over the new power loop. Incidentally, we were as good as our word, and through the courtesy of Wellsville Radio Station WLSV were able to arrange spot announcements warning Andover residents Monday night and Tuesday morning about the change in the power cut-off date as a public service. Thank you.

Does your driver's license expire September 30th? Better check it and see if you haven't done so far. If it does expire, and you haven't received your new punch card, you should go to Belmont or Hornell and have it taken care of by Monday at the latest. More than likely the State Troopers will be having road blocks soon to check up things like that.

We goofed last week and forgot to remind the deer hunters that the licenses for party permits are now and are available at the Town Hall. If you are interested in a party permit better get the necessary papers and mail them in right away as we found out through experience last year that if you wait very long they are all grabbed up.

We noticed that the "Moonlighters" have been back to work at the Baptist Church project and have completed a lot more of their mason work. According to "Si", they could still use a little more volunteer help when the weather warms up a little in the evenings. We noticed that they are also getting a new sidewalk put in all the way around the corner although we understand that they are running into a few difficulties. In talking to Frank we understand that a few of the local children have been working real hard to make a mess of the newly poured concrete. It sure is too bad that the little "darlings" can't be taught to leave things alone on other people's property instead of trying to see how much damage they can do. More than likely a few well aimed and directed whacks to the seat of the britches would cure this problem, 10-4?

Last night we took a few minutes off and went up to see how the boys were progressing in their efforts to create a new Little League ball park in the upper end of the Grove. We were really amazed at the amount of work that has been done in clearing the land and shudder at the thought of all the work that still remains to be done. The fellows sure have been working faithfully every evening until long after dark and have received quite a bit of assistance—but of course a lot more is needed. Any one interested in helping, can contact "Bob" Baker or any of the Little League baseball committee.
