1964 Seniors To Present "Pillow Talk"

This delightful three act play adapted from the movie, is the unusual combination of bright sophistication and a new high standard comedy. The film version starred Doris Day and Rock Hudson.

Jan Morrow (Lee Kessler) is a successful young interior decorator who is frantic to use the phone and Brad Allen (Don Harvey) is "the irresistible to all women and loving it" song writer, who is monopolizing her party line. In desperation Jan breaks in on one of his "cosy" conversations, only to hear Brad tell her, that she is just trying to brighten her drab life by listening in.

Her complaint to the telephone company backfires. They send out an impressionable female inspector to talk to Brad and her report to the company, leads them to blame Jan.

Through a friend, Jonathan Forbes (Bill Ford) and the convivance of Jan's maid (Mary Ellen Smith), Brad meets Jan. In order to impress her, he passes himself off as Rex Stetson, a naive young fellow from Texas. Jan is entranced by this bold pretense. This results in some uproarious comedy.

Supporting members of the cast are: Douglas Mulholland, Penny Hames, Bobbie Smith, Karen Rosintoski, Vicki Woolworth, Jackie Conde, Robert Goodridge, Bill Childs, Bonnie Fuller, Ethel Perry, Mary Ethel Caple, Jane Nichols, Jeanne Morse, Sandra Howland, Debbie Collins, Connie Sisson, Bill Emery, and Nancy Pitts. Musical numbers are performed by Sonia Jarimillo, Magda Montalva, senior male quartet and the ACS Dance Band.

Join the fun and laughter! Come to the ACS Auditorium Friday evening, Nov. 1, at 8:00 p. m. This gay and exciting play is directed by Mrs. Kessler and produced by special arrangement with the Dramatic Publishing Company of Chicago.

An emergency shelter need not be elegant, just safe.

County-wide Civil Defense Test Friday Oct. 25th

The County Civil Defense Test will start Friday afternoon at 2:45 P. M. with the sounding of the TAKE COVER signal on the sirens. The public will not be required to take cover as this will indicate the start of a traffic control test in various parts of the county. The Civil Defense Office reminds everyone that if this were to be a real alert they should immediately go to their nearest shelter. In some communities where fire sirens are used to sound the alerts, the TAKE COVER signal will be the only one sounded as it is felt that due to the present fire situation, it might cause confusion. In those communities where Civil Defense sirens can be sounded, an ALERT signal will be used at 3:45 P. M.

News That's Print To Fit

Our deepest sympathy goes out to a fellow Editor, Ray Wielozynski in Franklinville, whose paper we have enjoyed for some time.

Last Wednesday night his weekly paper "The Sentinel Press" was burned and drowned out in a disastrous fire before he had gone to press.

With the help and equipment of the Salamanca Republican Press, and thru his own intestinal fortitude, Ray came out Saturday with a four page tabloid complete with pictures of the mess the fire left his shop in.

Lots of luck Ray and here's hoping that you can get your presses rolling again soon.

We are glad to see that another fix-up program is in progress in the locality where the "Moonlighters" have been working so diligently.

After some discussion Monday night as to what needed to be done to fix-up the Masonic Hall, we understand that some bird figured some immediate action was necessary to take advantage of the fine weather we are enjoying and spearheaded a drive that is really rolling along.

Mr. Partridge, a fairly new member of the Lodge, has had a very active crew aided by some volunteers scraping old paint off and painting the rather neglected porch and trim.

We are glad to see some of the younger members of our local organizations take an active interest in improving the looks of their respective buildings as this indirectly helps the whole community.

Along the same line we noticed that a lot of activity has been going on at Ken's store and understand that he has pinched his fingers for the last time in the old fashioned glass cases that lined the north wall.

He tells us that they are coming out and the interior will be fixed up and painted.

We understand that a local businessman was really hopping mad this A. M., when he turned on the water faucet at his establishment to find—No Water.

The last we saw of him he was looking for a tomahawk or something like that and we had the impression that he might be out to scalp the nearest Village Board member as he was really on the warpath.

By the way Charley, did he ever catch up with you?

For all of you... people, that travel thru Almond we figure that you might be interested to know that the police force there is reported to be really out for business and is using either radar or some electric timing device for checking on a car's speed.

Judging from what a salesman told us yesterday that had just joined their $20 "Club", a young fellow with a red car nailed him just as he came into town—so evidently they are enforcing the speed limit just as soon as you get to their speed limit signs.

Thus it would be a good idea to be down to the speed limit of 30 BEFORE you come to their signs. A word to the wise—might save you five—to—twenty. 10-4?

NORTH MAIN ST. BRIDGE REPORT

The Monkey is now on the back of Town and Village authorities! We understand that there have been several rather heated discussions since last week over the visibility situation at the corner of Main and Rochambeau Ave., but so far no action has been taken as yet. In the meantime several more near accidents have been reported to us, with the latest one involving a member of the News force and a little Red

Volkswagon Tuesday noon.

We were told, according to our understanding, that the County Highway Department was not in favor of having this portion of the bridge removed for fear that it would "ruin the looks of the bridge."

However in checking with Ferd Shear, Allegany County Highway Superintendent, today we were told first hand that although this opinion was passed "that the looks of the bridge might be impaired," THIS DID NOT MEAN THAT IT COULDN'T OR SHOULDN'T BE DONE!

Mr. Shear told us that "safety had precedence over looks as far as he was concerned" and that it was, up to the Town and Village as far as action on it was concerned. He said that after all it was up to the people that used the bridge to know whether it was a traffic hazard or not and that whatever they decided was all right with him.

Thus the Monkey is now on the backs of our own elected local officials—it's up to them and you taxpayers and voters that travel these streets and that are interested in your own personal traffic safety!

Woods And Fields Closed — No Outdoor Fires!

Only a prolonged and drenching rainfall, not now in immediate prospect, the State Conservation Department says, will correct the hazardous fire situation which led to Acting Governor Malcolm Wilson's closing of the state's woodlands, forests and open land every where except New York City and Long Island.

In the meantime, Conservation Commissioner Harold G. Wilm emphasized, as a major point of the closing proclamation, the stopping of all outdoor burning in rural and urban areas of the state outside the excepted locations. "This includes burning of leaves and trash and all open fires," he declared.

All prohibitions of the closing order issued by the Lieutenant and Acting Governor, under Section 54 of the Conservation Law, became effective at 8 p. m., Sunday night, and, he said, will "continue in full force and effect until revoked by executive order."

Commissioner Wilm explained that his recommendation for executive action was based on reports from the Department's 14 fire districts which indicated a high burning index for most sections of the state and a high frequency of fire occurrence, especially in the Adirondacks and western New York.

In addition, he said weather reports show a statewide rain deficiency ranging from two to ten inches.

The executive order forbade "any person entering forests, woodlands, open lands or in or upon waters within such areas for any purpose except (1) for necessary business, (2) in the course of permanent occupancy of dwellings or residence in hotels, (3) for passage over roads suitable for normal vehicular traffic thru forests, woodlands or open lands to a lawful destination within or beyond the limits of this proclamation, or (4) as provided with respect to waters reached by a road suitable for normal vehicular traffic."

Commissioner Wilm pointed out, as follows, how the order affects certain groups especially concerned with specific provisions:

Hunters—all game seasons currently open are closed and the opening of any seasons are postponed, except for waterfowl. (The proclamation will permit waterfowl hunting from boats on bodies of water to which direct access is gained by a road suitable for normal vehicular traffic.)

Days lost from hunting and trapping as a result of the closing order may be compensated, if practical, by an extension of the seasons beyond their regular closing date.

Golfers—golfing on courses any where within the limits of the closing proclamation will be permitted only where such courses are supervised and patrolled.

Campers and Hikers—campers in the woods prior to the proclamation must come out and no camping permits for state lands will be issued. Camp owners who are not permanent residents are required to leave for the period of the closing order.

Boat owners—recreational use of boats is prohibited except where direct access to a body of water is gained over a road suitable for normal vehicular traffic.

Motorists—vehicular travel is limited to normally used highways and suitable access routes, with ALL woods roads and trails off limits to vehicles.

Fishermen—all fishing is prohibited except from boats on waters where direct access is provided by a road suitable for normal vehicular traffic.

Some checks to be made on grass stops growing in the fall, say Cornell specialists.
