Principal Wesley Tennant congratulated the new members of the Society on their achievements.

Rev. Vincent Collins of Canisteo spoke on "Honor" as related to the four qualities upon which membership in the Society is based: Leadership, Character, Service and Scholarship.

Father Collins said that a person must have self-respect before there can be Honor. In helping others, you help yourself. On being a leader, you attain leadership by what you, yourself are. A person must have high standards in order to have character.

The students inducted into the Society were Darlene Burley, Donna Krusen, Seniors; Jayne Krusen, Susanna Kernan, Candace

Mattison, Jack York, Juniors; Patricia Hanbach, a sophomore, was admitted as a provisional member.

The Operation Advance Group of Greenwood inaugurated its program recently when the group met to discuss the topic of Community Growth and Development. The group is composed of adult citizens representing various interests and organizations and plans to meet each Tuesday for the next three weeks to discuss in order the following topics: Education in Future, Resource, Land, Water, and People, and Admits World's Tensions.

The group participated in open informal discussion and will welcome others who may wish to participate. Meetings are at 8:00 p. m., at the school.

A Similar group under the direction of Christina McNeill is operating in West Union.

Tuesday's meeting which was on the topic Community Growth and Development brought up the discussion of great changes within the last 15 years. There was discussion on traffic control, waste and garbage disposal, sewer system and police protection. It was also mentioned that continual attention should be given to the welcoming of new families to the community and to its organizations.

Ways were also discussed in which the younger youth of the community might work with their more experienced elders in organizations and the community.

Mrs. Virginia Hunt was discussion leader.
