Thousands will see the '64-'65 World's Fair. Yet, how many of these people realize the number of past fairs that have been held? The first big fair was one staged by King Ahasuerus of Persia. It is described in the Old Testament and ran for 180 days. Few expositions have ever finished in the black. However, the Great Exhibition of 1851 was an outstanding exception. This fair sponsored by Prince Albert, husband of Great Britain's Queen Victoria, was held in Hyde Park, London. It featured the first World's Fair symbol—a gigantic glass called the "Crystal Palace". The Crystal Palace remained in London until 1936 when it was destroyed by fire. The first fair that actually commemorated an event was the Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia in 1876. It celebrated the 100th Anniversary of the United States. Bell's telephone and Edison's phonograph were first shown at this fair.

The French Exposition of 1889 marked the 100th birthday of the French Revolution, and had as its symbol the Eiffel Tower. The tower was praised by some, but condemned by others as "a monstrosity of ugliness".

The World Columbia Exposition was held in Chicago in 1893 to celebrate the 400th anniversary of Columbus' landing.

Its wonders included the electric light, the Pullman car, and the first ferris wheel.

The scientific development of the United States became the theme for the Century of Progress Exposition, which opened in Chicago in 1933. Although it was held during an economic depression, the exposition was a financial success and paid off all its debts.

The '39 to '40 World's Fair had birthdays and exhibits sponsored by the sixty-two nations. Its aim was "to show the way toward the improvement of all factors contributing to human welfare."

Europe's best fair since World War II was the Brussels World's Fair of 1958. The Atomium was the symbol. Russia's first sputnik was one of the star exhibits.

The Seattle World's Fair's symbol was the "Space Needle". This is now a permanent feature of downtown Seattle.

Purple and White

The track meet with Alfred-Almond's Eagles held here last Friday, found Andover's Panthers taking a beating. The final score was 78-16. The meet was scheduled late in the afternoon, after Canisteo was forced to cancel its date with the Eagles.

The season's Track Schedule will be as follows:

May 13—Cuba—at Cuba

May 16—Spring Day—at Wells-ville

May 20—Rushford, Belfast, Whitesville—at Rushford

May 23—County Day—Wells-ville

May 27—Scio-Alfred-Almond—Here

June 6—Sectional Meet—at Rochester.

On bad days next week, the boys will be in the gym. Otherwise, will have the pool, and the girls will both be outside.

On the Baseball scene, Andover downed Friendship on their field Monday, 2-1. Dan Smith suffered a slight injury, but is much better. Good luck Dan!

A. C. S. Seniors Awarded Scholarships At Syracuse

Don Harvey and Penny Hames have been awarded scholarships at Syracuse University for the semester beginning in September, 1964.

Penny, who is an alternate for a New York State Regents Scholarship, has been awarded a nursing scholarship which is to be used in the four-year nursing program at Syracuse.

Don, who is a recipient of the Regents Scholarship, has received a Syracuse University Trustee Scholarship for $1100 each year, to be used in the liberal arts program. The scholarship which begins in September, 1964, is granted for two years, and is renewable. Congratulations go to both these seniors for their fine accomplishments.

The symbol of the present fair is the Unisphere. Robert Moses, president of the fair says: "The Unisphere represents man's achievements on a shrinking globe in an expanding universe." It is hoped that the fair's theme, "Peace Through Understanding" will be furthered by this fair.

Senior Interview

This week the Hi Herald has the privilege of interviewing James Devone Partridge. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Partridge became the parents of "Jim", September 1, 1946. He has one brother, John Michael, who is in seventh grade.

Jim may well be considered the all-American athletic type of boy. He has participated in many sports: baseball for three years, track for three years, soccer for three years, wrestling for two years of which he is captain this year; J.V. basketball for one year and he is a member of the Varsity Club. His other activities include being a member of the Student Council plus majoring in business and industrial arts.

He has many favorite things. When he's not busy with sports or other school work he likes to watch television. His favorite saying is "How about that". Jim likes steak the best of any food; his favorite color is red and he likes Business Law the best of all his subjects. His favorite sport is football, and he likes non-fiction type books. He doesn't like people who like to brag about themselves and his philosophy is "you can do anything if you try hard enough". Although his plans after graduation are incomplete, we wish him the best of luck in whatever he does.

FFA News

The County F.F.A. held their Annual Meeting last Monday night. The guest speaker was Bob Cummings of Warsaw, the 1963 American Star Farmer. Mr. Cummings spoke on agriculture in Russia and in the United States. He also showed a movie of his farming operation.

At this meeting Mike Baker of Andover was elected secretary of the County F.F.A. for next year. All new officers were installed at the close of the meeting.

Red Cross News

The car wash to be sponsored by the High School Red Cross will be held next Saturday, May 9th from 9 to 12 A. M. and 1 to 4 P. M. Any person holding a Free Car Wash ticket should bring their car to the school between these times.

Robert Goodridge

Robert Goodridge, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Goodridge, R. D. 1, Andover, will receive the highest award given to a Future Farmer by the New York Association of F.F.A. at the 39th Convention to be held at the Attica High School May 8th and 9th.

The Empire Farmer Degree is awarded annually to two per cent of the State F.F.A. enrollment. This year one hundred thirty-four boys will receive the award. To be eligible for this award a boy must have completed four units of agriculture, have invested at least $500 in farming, and be a leader in school and community activities.

Bob's supervised Farming Program consists of owning six milking cows, eight heifers and some farm machinery. He is working with his father on the home farm. Bob has been president, vice president and sentinel of the Andover F.F.A. and is County F.F.A. news reporter. He has taken an active interest in school affairs participating in the Junior and Senior play activities. He plans on working the home farm with his father after graduation from high school.

National Honor Society Debate

Five Andover girls journeyed to Alfred University on Thursday, April 30, to participate in a series of debates. These five girls were Jean DeRemer, Karen Rosintoski, Cheryl Baker, Sharon Congelli and Dianne Vars—all National Honor Society members. Among the many schools represented besides Andover were Bolivar, Arisport, Allegany Central, Belmont, Cuba, and Canaseraga, to mention just a few.

There were about two hundred students present. Each took part in two different debates, some of which were the Responsibility of the Teen-age Driver, Foreign Exchange Program, Red China and the U. N., and Grading in the high schools.

We wish to thank our advisor, Mr. Masters, for driving us to and from the debates.

Downbeats

On May 1st and 2nd the Andover Dance Band participated in the Exchange Club Amateur Show in Wellsville. The band was one of twenty-three entries in the show. The Dance Band, however, failed to win a place, but the experience was well worth the work.

On May 15 the Annual Spring Concert will be held in the school. This will consist of the Elementary and Junior High Choirs and the Junior and Senior Bands. Let's plan to attend this event and show our appreciation to the students as well as their directors for all their efforts.
