Editorial

by Vicki Lynch

This is the month that teachers all over the nation receive carnations and become honored guests at receptions and banquets. This is the National Month of Teacher Recognition.

Our teachers see us through our formative years; tirelessly advising, always inspiring. They teach us to value knowledge, not for its own sake, but for the new vistas of understanding it opens. In a world where indoctrinations of youth is a threat to independent thinking, we have known the blessing of guided thought as well as freedom of decision and choice.

Andover Central students would like to pay homage to our faculty. Thank you for everything.

Downbeats

This week-end brings to a climax all the activities of the music department this year, for this is the week-end that the band, chorus and soloists receive competition ratings.

On Friday, the Concert Band and Senior High Choir perform at Houghton College where they will be judged by two adjudicators and given a rating of "A", "B" or "C". This year the Concert Band is again competing in Grade Six music, the most difficult music written for band. The chorus is singing Grade Four music all a-cappella which makes it difficult also.

Senior Interviews

This week, "Hi Herald" has the pleasure of interviewing Carol Ann Sherman born July 9, 1944 to Mr. and Mrs. Niles Sherman. She has five brothers and one sister.

Carol has been a faithful participant in FHA throughout high school. Her majors are business and accounting.

Among her favorites are: food, chocolate pie; color, blue; subject, Business Law; sport, basketball; pastime, reading, and saying, "We can't do it at that now."

Upon graduation Carol would like to enter the field of rehabilitation.

Harold Lee Sherman is in the spotlight this year for Senior Interview. His parents are Doris and Les Sherman. Harold has a sister, Carol, in the twelfth grade and a brother, Donald, in the tenth grade.

He is majoring in Industrial Arts and English. Besides his school work, Harold worked as scenery for both the Junior and Senior plays and he likes to hunt. Harold says he doesn't want to know the minor details of life. His philosophy is "Those who run around in circles should be known as big wheels". His pet peeve is people who are always asking for something to do. Harold likes novels, pizza, red for color, football, and as his favorite subject Business Law. He plans to join the Armed Forces after graduating.

Don Harvey Presented Award

At the Annual A.C.S. Band and Chorus Concert last Friday Donald Harvey was presented the John Philip Sousa Award. This is an award given to a senior who is considered outstanding in his service and cooperation to the band and its director. The senior is chosen by the members of the band and its director.
