News That's Print To Fit

The old saying that "History has a way of Repeating Itself" was certainly brought back to us very forcibly last week, and from the comments we have heard about it, has created a "Loss of the Image" of the True Picture of the Andover News in the eyes of some of the students and parents alike who have not heard the other side of the story.

In the Newspaper Game, we make friends—as well as enemies, whenever a positive stand is taken on any issue. Almost every week, something that is written up innocently, well-meaning, and in the Public interest, is interpreted by someone as a personal slam against that particular person, when we don't even know that the point-in-issue can be misconstrued so as to apply to anyone locally.

A very few people will come and ask about it while the majority of those taking offense will keep quiet and let it fester up until it is all out of reasonable proportions, and then pull a quick stab in the back to try and get even.

We certainly do not believe in letting a personal difference of opinion enter in, detract, or sway us from giving credit where credit is due.

Last year in this Column of Thursday, May 30, 1963, which is on file at the News Office this item appeared and we quote:

"Speaking of hiking reminds us of marching and that tomorrow is Memorial Day. Yesterday we heard the High School Band practicing for the occasion and saw them marching and they sure sounded good and looked sharp.

On commenting about it to Mr. McClure, Andover Music Director, he tells us that the Band is going to play regular Martial Music by the Famous John Philip Sousa entitled "Manhattan Beach", at a regular military cadence.

At the cemetery the Band will play "America The Beautiful" and "The Star Spangled Banner", with Dianne Vars and Elwin Schoonover as soloists.

Here's hoping the weather will be nice for the parade!

This was written up as praise, was meant as such and was absolutely true.

This year we were in a hurry to get the paper out and in the mail by Thursday morning so our readers and advertisers could benefit alike since most stores would be closed Saturday.

Thus we wrote up our Editorial and took the trouble and effort to check with the Band Director, Mr. McClure, to see if our next to last paragraph was correct or needed to be changed.

There was no hidden meaning implied or meant and the exact wording is as follows and we quote:

"The ACS High School Band will be leading the Parade and will be playing well known martial music to the cadence that all Veterans have had drilled in them during their Military Career."

The previous year we had checked with him and had used his information, so we were merely following this established procedure so that we would be correct or could stand corrected before going to press.

We said nothing except asked him to read the above quoted few lines and make any necessary changes.

Thus imagine our surprise when he violently accused us of allegedly insulting him and ordered us out of the school. We were also told several other things which would serve no useful purpose in quoting, so we red penciled the reference to the Band and left without displaying our feelings or losing our temper.

As far as we were concerned the matter should have dropped right there without any public comments on either side.

However, when we have heard

Youth Baseball Season Opens

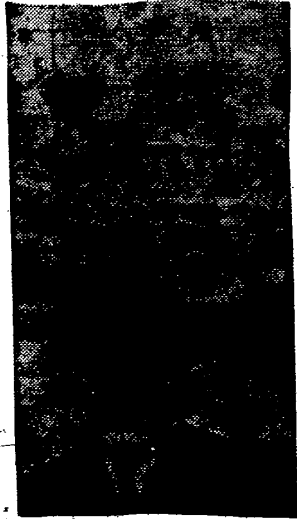

The Babe Ruth Season was inaugurated Saturday, May 30th at the Andover Central School Diamond, with Belmont taking the game 6-5 in ten innings, in a tight, well-played ball game.

The Andover team, minus the services of Rosintoski, Ordiway, Vickers and Cornell, while the Belmont contingent was at full strength, gave the Belmont team a very close contest. Partridge and Haynes pitched for the locals limiting the visiting team to 7 hits. C. Joyce contributed a double to the local's cause.

The local Babe Ruth Team shows much potential and playing ability and will do their best to bring home a trophy this year.
