Hat Parade

by Kay Nevol

This Friday afternoon we will have our First Hat Parade at 1:00 p. m.

Make a funny hat or any kind you want. Come and see if you can win a prize. There will be refreshments afterwards. We are looking forward to seeing you.

Early Bird Contest

by Donald Baker

Where were you at six o'clock Tuesday morning?

Starting next Tuesday morning we will be having a Early Bird Contest. If you are an early bird starting next week, you may be able to win a T-Shirt.
"See if you can beat me"

Mold Making

by Linda Eshenbaugh

Monday afternoon we spent two hours making molds. We had quite a mess but it was fun. Tuesday all of us will be painting what we made Monday. We will be glad to see you next time we make molds. We will be glad to help you if it is possible.

Last Friday, the 61st Annual Commencement Exercises of the Greenwood Central School saw the awarding of diplomas to the largest class in the history of the school, 25 seniors. Lloyd Chaffee, President of the Board of Education presented them to: Barry Quinn, President; Donna Krusen, Vice President; Donna Wallace, Secretary; Janet Harkenrider, Treasurer; Stanley Smith, Student Council Representative; Harlan Warriner, Marshall; Roy Bennett, Alexis Brown, Darlene Burley, Gary Chaffee, Gail Copenhaver, Nancy Herrick, Shirley Hoyt, Nancy Kernan, Sheldon Kernan, Robert McCaffrey, Mary Jo McCormick, Stanley Murray, Marjorie Ormsby, Lynn Redmond, Gail Smith, Royce Vanderhoef, George Whitsell, Roger Williamson, Diane Woodward. Following the Processional and Invocation by Rev. Roger Williams the Salutatorian's address was given by Barry Quinn. He said, "we are fortunate to be living in a country like this. We must work hard to make this world as good of better for the next generation.

For the Valedictorian's address, Janet Harkenrider spoke. "The Torch Has Been Lighted". She spoke on accepting the challenges of the changing world.

The class was addressed by Robert G. Smith, Director, Office of Public Information, Colgate University. In his topic "A Glimpse of the Future", he said "the past is forever gone, the future is yours forever ahead. Rapid changes of today will give a still better life in 2000, but the graduates will have to face and overcome the dangers and problems that are inherent in these changes. He predicted for the future the combining of small towns into larger centers of governmental and economic units.

Awards were presented to Seniors by Robert Hoagland, Vice Principal. The awards were Balfour award to Janet Harkenrider; Babe Ruth award to Roger Williamson, Barry Quinn and Donna Krusen; First State Bank award to Nancy Kernan; Lillian Bird Memorial English award to Janet Harkenrider; American Agriculturist in Homemaking award to Donna Krusen; American Agriculturist in Agriculture award to Harlan Warriner; Driver Education award to Diane Woodward; Betty Crocker award to Donna Wallace; DAR Citizenship to Donna Krusen; Home-School English award to Barry Quinn; Science to Janet Harkenrider; Music to Lynn Redmond and Donna Wallace; and Athletics to Roy Bennett and Gary Chaffee; Danforth Foundation award to Mary Jo McCormick and Sheldon Kernan; DeKalb award
