Seventeen Allegany County women have completed the Homemaker Training Service course. Following the completion of the course they are available to work as homemakers in homes where the mother is ill or unable to care for the family. Families needing service are asked to contact the Homemaker Service director Mrs. L. C. Gleason of Wellsville, who will make the assignments.

The Rev. Jesse M. Howat, pastor of the Union of Churches in Almond has answered a call extended by the Hyde Park United Presbyterian Church of Niagara Falls, effective of Nov. 1. The Rev. Howat has appeared in the Andover pulpit several times during the time he was in Almond.

A "Tired Child" symptoms which has developed from the Air Force doctors study of 30 children at Air Force bases has released the observation that children who watched TV about three to six hours each week-day and longer periods during the week-end become tired and get more tired as they watch. As the problem increases for each child, he spends more and more time watching TV because he's too tired to do anything else.

A Senate sub-committee has warned the television industry to cut the amount of violence and crime on its programs or face possible congressional intervention. The Senate group found "that a relationship has been conclusively established between televised crime and violence and antisocial attitudes and behavior among juvenile viewers".

Andover Teachers Nominated

Two teachers from Andover Central School have been nominated as candidates for the New York State Teachers House of Delegates.

Nominated as Delegate was Mrs. Rosemary Burger, Junior High English Teacher, who has served as representative to the County Teachers Association for two years. As a member of this group Mrs. Burger has served on the Film Library Committee and at present is Secretary of the Steering Committee. She also is Chairman of the Professional Ethics Committee and was appointed to the Public Relations Committee for the year 1964-65.

Mrs. Burger is a life member of the National Education Association and active member of the National Council of Teachers of English and member of Board of Directors of the Allegany County Red Cross. While teaching in the Corning City School District Mrs. Burger was a member of the Executive Council of the Teachers Association representing Painted Post High School.

Mrs. Madeline Woodruff, Senior High English Teacher, member and officer of the Eastern Star, Advisor for the American Legion Oratorical Contest and Hi Herald, the school newspaper, was nominated as a candidate for Alternate Delegate.
