

SOCIAL NOTES

Mrs. Frank Holmes entertained the L. L. Bridge Club at her home Thursday evening, Dec. 3rd. Their annual Christmas dinner was served at 6:30 p. m., followed by cards and exchange of gifts. The honors were presented to Mrs. E. J. Allen, Mrs. John Nohles, Mrs. Guy Tucker and Mrs. Stanley Mace of Hornell was presented a guest prize.

The Canasta members and guests met at the home of Mrs. John Burns, Monday evening. Mrs. William F. Joyce was the honored birthday guest.

The members of the Andover Volunteer Firemen's Auxiliary held their Annual Christmas Dinner at the Hotel Joyce Wednesday night. A social hour and exchange of gifts was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schrader, Barney St., following the dinner.

Mrs. George Pugh of the Birdsall road, near Angelica, was in the garage at her home Friday morning with a service man attempting to start the family auto when gasoline ignited and started a fire in the garage which was attached to the house. The building and contents were a complete loss. Mr. and Mrs. Pugh have two children, both high school age, who were in school when the fire started. Mrs. Pugh who was burned, collapsed from shock and was taken to the Cuba Memorial Hospital where it was reported that she was in satisfactory condition.

Howard Burdick was reelected secretary of the Metropolitan cooperative Milk Producers Bargaining Agency Inc., at the annual board of directors organizational meeting Thursday held at Syracuse. Other officers elected were Ward Phelps of Covington, Pa. president; Joseph Gibson of Ellensburg Depot, vice president; and Abner Rissner of Bainbridge treasurer.
