

Miss Jane Ann Nichols and Robert D. Goodridge Wed December 20th

A beautiful early winter wedding took place on Sunday, December 20, 1964 in the Andover Presbyterian Church when Miss Jane Ann Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nichols of 11 East Greenwood Street, was united in marriage to Robert Dale Goodridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Goodridge of R. D. 1, Andover. The Rev. Willis V. Peck, pastor officiated at the double ring ceremony at two o'clock. Mrs. Douglas York, organist presided at the organ and accompanied Mrs. Nelson Snyder as soloist in "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord Is My Shepherd" by Dvorak. The church was decorated with white gladiolus and carnations and white satin ribbons.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white empress satin styled with a fitted bodice, a scoop neckline and long sleeves ending over the wrists. The skirt was fashioned in a bell form and was accented with tiny seed pearls to form flower motifs on the front panels. The back panel ended with a detachable chapel train held by two bows at the back of the waist. Her two tier veil of silk illusion fell from a wreath of pearls and crystals. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. Frank Cahill, the bride's sister, was the matron-of-honor. Her gown was royal blue satin with a white fitted lace bodice and bell form skirt. A matching tirma which held a nose length veil and matching shoes completed her ensemble. She carried a colonial bouquet of white peppermint striped carnations.

The bridesmaids, Miss Ajonna Smith, Miss Ethel Perry, Miss Bonnie Fuller and Miss Debbie Nichols, cousin of the bride as junior bridesmaid, all from Andover, were in gowns of hot pink satin styled the same as the matron-of-honor, with pink accessories and carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Wendy Cahill, niece of the bride, was the flower girl and wore a floor length gown the same as the bridesmaids and carried a basket of rose petals.

Ricky Cahill, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Gail Burdick of Andover, R. D. 1, acted as best man. 1st Lt. Clair Goodridge of Fort Erwin, Calif., and Lyndon Goodridge of Athens, Georgia, brothers of the groom, and Dale Foster and John Coats, of Andover were the ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Nichols chose a gold dress with brown accessories and a yellow carnation corsage. The groom's mother selected a royal blue velvet dress with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception for 300 guests was held at the Andover Grange Hall. Guests were present from Hartford, Conn., Olean, East Aurora, Richburg, Wellsville, Angelica, Belfast and Rochester. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Freeborough of Allentown uncle and aunt of the bride, furnished the music.

The bride's table was centered with a five tiered wedding cake, trimmed with white bells and a touch of pink, topped by a miniature bride and groom and flanked by lighted tapers, and the bouquets of the bridal party. Miss Marlene Wise of Belfast; Mrs. Lyndon Goodridge of Athens, Ga. and Mrs. Clair Goodridge of Fort Erwin, Calif., presided at the bride's table.

The assisting hostesses were Mrs. Julia Coats, Mrs. Claude Shellman, Mrs. Gertrude Miller, Mrs. Harold Sisson, Mrs. Marro Goodridge, the Misses Kathy

Shellman and Connie Sisson, all of Andover.

The couple left for a honeymoon in Buffalo and Niagara Falls. For traveling, Mrs. Goodridge wore a winter white wool suit with brown accessories. They returned on Christmas Eve to their home located near the homestead where the groom is engaged in agriculture, assisting his father. Both are 1964 graduates of Andover Central School.

Prenuptial events were: bridal showers given by Mrs. Frank Cahill and Miss Ethel Perry.

An unique feature of this occasion the marriage took place on the same anniversary date of the bride's great grandmother, Jan Ann Huffman, Bloodett, her namesake, on December 20, 1873.
