VOL. XX

Andover, N. Y., Jan. 7, 1965

Editorial

by Jean DeRemer

A new year has begun—1965. January 1 also marks the beginning of numerous New Year's resolutions. People resolve to do this and not do that, but—most often the "I'm going to turn over a new leaf"—ers slip back into the old habits.

The reason may perhaps be that we try to make too much change at once. We are old softies and the old habits are easier. But the secret is—make ONE resolution and master it before trying another. Benjamin Franklin realized that it is best to tackle one thing at a time, for he made thirteen resolutions but worked on the one he considered most important until he had mastered that trait. Then he concentrated on the second most important.

Even though any time is a good time for improvement, we owe it to ourselves to at least try to be better than we were. All of us should take a critical look at ourselves, pick out our most outstanding fault, and do something about correcting it. Who knows what we might be like after the reformation?

Oratorical Contest

Monday, January 4, four juniors participated in the Oratorical Contest, sponsored by the American Legion, held in the A. C. S. Auditorium.

First place winner was Kathy Shellman. Her essay was entitled "Freedom Guaranteed". Kathy will represent Andover in the County Contest in Bolivar.

Martha Lynch took second place with her speech on "Parallelisms of Our Constitution and the American Flag".

Third place went to Debbie Dunham with her essay on the "History of the Constitution." John Wahl's speech on "Peace Through Understanding" was awarded fourth place.

The judges for the contest were Mr. Ronald M. Brown and Mr. Fred Gerty, both from Alfred University and Mr. Glenn Bronson from Andover.

Congratulations are certainly in order for the four students and the excellent job they did.

Spy!

Here's your favorite buddy giving you your weekly report of all the local gossip.

During the long Christmas vacation quite a few things happened. Tuesday night, after the game quite a few were seen at the dance.

Friday night P. H. had a "spur of the moment party". Everyone had a good time. Who walked B. S. home, I wonder?

Who was the senior girl who had a party Saturday night? Did I see Goat and S. W., J. H., and Jeff, S. C., Celia and her friend, D. H., and D. V., and E. S., there? New Year's Eve found quite a few people having a party. Susan Reil and Jeff Common were two who made the night more exciting.

I also heard that B. V., had a get together. It seems to have lasted way longer than midnight.

Saturday night S. C., had a party at her new house. Those there who helped eat the food were G. C. and J. W., E. S., I. A., "Cord", P. G., B. E., D. B., and S. B.

Here's news of the graduates. Penny H. was seen hobbling around with her cast. D. H. was seen on TV and with D. V. Other grads weren't seen too often in Andover. Wellsville seemed to be attractive.

Well, now that everything is quieted and back in order there won't be so much to write about.

Senior Interview

This week's honored senior is Jeanette Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Day. Born on September 17, 1947, she later found herself with three sisters, Joyce, Jeanne and Jane, and one brother, Jimmy.

While in high school Jeanette has participated for all four years in FHA and Hi Herald, besides taking a business and science major. She played the part of Laura in the Junior play last Spring.

Outside of school Jeanette likes to sew, draw, and ride horses. Her pet peeve is "pushy" people, and her philosophy is the Golden Rule. Jeanette's favorites are: Food, spaghetti; saying, "Oh, really?"; book, "Gone With The Wind"; movie "Exodus"; subject, English and color, light pink.

As for her future plans, Jeanette would like to attend Rochester Business Institute and become a medical secretary. To Jeanette, A.C.S. wishes luck and happiness throughout life.
