Local Farmer Honored

Carl Wixson of Belfast was chosen as Conservation Farmer for the year 1964 by the Allegany County Soil and Water Conservation District Directors at their meeting on December 15th.

Mr. Wixson for the past few years has established many conservation practices including diversion ditches, strip cropping, tile drains, crop rotations and tree planting.

He says, I will continue to install practices in the future as needed in my dairy operation. These practices have enabled me to increase the productivity of every acre.

He will hold the Hugh D. Chamberlain Conservation Trophy for one year and will be honored at the Annual District Party early in 1965.
