

MOTORISTS—WAKE UP AND JOIN THE FIGHT!

An Editorial

The spirit of '76 has taken over on the highways! Since the beginning of this month, the coiled snake banner of the tax-burdened colonists is once again being seen throughout New York State, this time in the form of a sticker affixed to the side windows of cars to protest registration and gas tax increases proposed to help balance the budget.

The symbol, together with the words "Don't Tread On Me", has been adopted by AAA Motor Clubs to keynote their call to action among 650,000 members.

George M. Frauenheim, president of the New York State Automobile Association, who announced the campaign to oppose the special levies, charged that legislators are ignoring the resentment of motorists at being considered a special target to carry more than their fair share of the general costs of government.

Under the State Budget presented by Governor Rockefeller, the registration taxes on passenger cars would be doubled, to bring in an additional $90 million in tax revenues in the fiscal year beginning April 1.

In addition, Samuel L. Greenberg, a Democratic Senator from Brooklyn, has said consideration is being given to a 2-cent a gallon increase in the state gasoline tax, bringing that levy to a record 8-cent a gallon figure, plus a Federal tax of 4-cents a gallon. A 2-cent a gallon gas tax increase would amount to some $80 million additional a year.

While most motorists are willing to pay for the construction, maintenance, and policing of the highways they use, they are vigorously opposed to the long-standing practice of the state of diverting special highway user tax revenue to non-highway purposes.

Since 1933, according to the AAA President, documented records show that more than a billion dollars of this revenue has been diverted to non-highway purposes. "The enactment of these increases would enable the state to divert a minimum of $182,000,000 in the single year ahead", he said. "Motorists will not tolerate this kind of discriminatory taxation. They do not want to be forced to pay these burdensome increases on a basis that singles them out, apart from other citizens when they are already paying all of the taxes paid by everyone else."

The AAA has taken the position in opposition to any and all increases in the special taxes paid by motorists, unless and until, all highway user tax revenues are guaranteed exclusively for highway purposes by a Constitutional Amendment. The red on white window stickers, which urge motorists to "write Albany" are being supplemented by direct communications to members which suggest writing or wiring local Senators and Assemblymen requesting that they stand firm against the proposed tax increases.

Won't all of you Motorists join in the fight against raising the auto registration tax (or fee) as well as the proposed raise in the gasoline tax?

All you have to do is to write or wire your State Senator: Kenneth R. Willard at The Capitol, Albany; and your Assemblyman Don O. Cummings at The Capitol, Albany. Let them know how you feel!

MEDICAL SOCIETY OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK

A SCRAPED AREA OF THE SKIN BECOMES COVERED WITH A NATURAL "BANDAGE", COMMONLY CALLED A SCAB.

THIS FIRM COVERING IS A MIXTURE OF CLOTTED BLOOD AND FLUID FROM THE INJURED TISSUES. IT HARDENS ON EXPOSURE TO THE AIR, SEALING AND THUS PROTECTING THE WOUNDED AREA.

NEW SKIN GROWS UNDER THE SCAB, AND WHEN IT COVERS THE WOUND, THE SCAB WILL COME OFF.

PICKING AT SCABS WHILE THEY'RE STILL FIRMLY STUCK IS ONLY LIKELY TO CAUSE INFECTION AND MAKE THINGS WORSE!

SCAB

SKIN NOT COMPLETELY HEALED YET.

"Operator! Please Call Washington"

The following poem was brought to the News Office by an interested citizen.

Put thru a call to Washington,
For I would like to know
Just what my payroll ought to be
And where it ought to go;
Ask someone how I'm doing and
If I am in the clear,
And what the outlook for me is
In my affairs next year.

Inquire at the Capitol
How much I ought to make,
And find out what's permissible
For me, as boss, to take;
Determine if I'm doing well
And get some bureau's view;
I cannot as a businessman
Do as I used to do.

Ask what I ought to get for each
New product in my plant;
Once I could find out for myself
But now, of course, I can't
Some Senator will fix the price
Assisted by some board
Which keeps my book and always knows

Just what I can afford.
A hair tonic, a razor blade.
A motorcar, a vest . . .
Let Washington just fix the price
The government knows best!
I used to think I had the facts
But now committees bright
Sit by me in my factory
And keep me doing right.

And while you're on the wire ask
What my own pay should be;
Some board will gladly fix a price
That's good enough for me.
For Washington a slogan has
That's very close to great:
"All wages fixed up speedily —
We do it while you wait."

1965 Easter Seal Campaign In Full Swing

Adequate treatment services for growing numbers of crippled children and adults poses a major challenge to the people of New York State according to Harold M. Edwards, President of the Easter Seal Society of New York State (Association for Crippled Children and Adults).

"The campaign began March 1 and continues through Easter Sunday, April 18. There are more crippled people; but modern science has found new and better ways of rehabilitating them and returning them to normal living. These new methods, the result of medical and scientific research in the past decade, demand that we keep abreast of each new development, both with advanced professional training and skill and with the newest and most effective equipment," stated Mr. Edwards. According to Mr. Edwards the traditional Easter Seals were mailed just prior to the opening date of the campaign, March 1st. He stressed the fact that 90% of the support for the society's year-round rehabilitation programs results from the annual Easter Seal Appeal.

This year's seal is a dignified symbolic design featuring the white stylized lily, official emblem of the Easter Seal Society, against an azure blue background. A wheel of crutches printed in black surrounds the lily. The legend in white across the lower edge of the Seal reads "Easter Seals" with date in black.

"This year's appeal, which continues through Easter Sunday, April 18, is one of the most important in the 44-year history of the Easter Seal Society" stated Mr. Edwards.

"The reason is as simple as this — the number of crippled children and adults increases every year and, in direct ratio, so does the need for more money to give them care and treatment. It is unthinkable in this enlightened day and age that any crippled person should be deprived of the chance for rehabilitation.

"More people survive accidents and our senior citizen population is increasing. Our job just gets bigger and we must do it to the best of our ability with the available budget."

According to Mr. Edwards, the Easter Seal Society of New York State provided care and treatment services for more than 8,500 crippled children and adult residents of the state and sent over 900 youngsters to special camps.
