

welders beginning April 12, 1965. The welding course is open to men who are unemployed, seasonally employed or working less than full time, 18 years of age or over with appropriate interest and aptitudes. Interested individuals should report at once to the Wells-ville Office of the New York State Division of Employment at 16 1/2 North Main Street.

Rodney R. Sherwood, associate professor of air conditioning technology at the State University Agricultural and Technical College at Alfred, has announced that he will retire June 12 at the end of the current quarter.

Ward B. Flaxington, professor of general studies at the State Agricultural and Technical College at Alfred, has announced that he will retire June 12 at the end of the current quarter. A prominent Hornellian and a resident of the city for 36 years, Flaxington was named to the local college faculty in 1958, after having taught at the two-year school part time prior to his appointment. Prior to his appointment at Alfred Tech Flaxington was minister of Hornell's Westminister Presbyterian Church for 30 years. At the time of his resignation, he was the oldest member, in years of service, of the Hornell Ministerial Association and was considered the "dean" of the ministers.
