Editorial

by Jean DeRemer

Memorial Day. It is the time to think of all those men who are and have been fighting in many places. We should be indebted to them all year round.

The following poem, written during World War II, is still too fitting the world over:

The Guerrillas
 by Auslander

Listen, Guerrillas, wherever you may be —
 In marsh or mountain or the forest deep,
 Striking for land and life and liberty,
 Stalking the foe awake, the foe asleep —

Listen, I have no song to match your valor,
 You in the swamp, the woods, the hills, the village,
 Your eyes like fire in the face's pallor

As you watch the barbarian at his pillage —
 Listen, my eyes blaze too, my blood runs cold,
 My heart is like a hammer in my side,

It sings to see how brave you are, how bold,
 It laughs with you, it cries hot tears of pride . . .

The bombed bridge blooms a slow blue tree of smoke . . .
 The harsh dust settles on the summer oak.

Surprise Party!

At 1:00 Friday afternoon, our fifth grade had a surprise party for our teacher, Miss Ruby Jordan. We had Miss Taylor call her down at 12:45 so we could get the room ready. When Miss Jordan came into the room, it was empty. Then we opened the lockers where we were hiding and yelled "Surprise!"

Mrs. Mattison and Mrs. McCormick made two delicious cakes. Mrs. Burch, Mrs. Atwell and Mrs. Geer furnished cookies. In addition to that we had candy bars, ice cream, milk and bubble gum. After we ate, Miss Jordan opened her present. It was a beautiful towel set. Then the class played bingo.

I would like to thank all the mothers who helped my youngsters make their surprise party for me such a huge success last Friday. I am especially thinking of Mrs. Atwell, Mrs. Burch, Mrs. Ford and also Mrs. Geer, Mrs. McCormick and Mrs. Mattison who furnished the lovely cakes, cookies and ice cream. I enjoyed it very much and I'm sure the children had a wonderful time.

Senior Interviews

This week's Senior was born on June 15, 1947 to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Vars. She has two brothers, Douglas and Curt. The name is Dianne.

Dianne who has a math and science major is the salutatorian of this year's senior class. She is a great music enthusiast. This is shown by her participation in band for seven years; dance band, seven years; pep band, seven years; All County Band, six years; Area All-State Band, four years; All State Band, two years; orchestra, six years; and chorus, four years. Other than music Dianne has been a member of FHA, one year; Hi Herald, four years; National Honor Society, three years.

Dianne was business editor of our yearbook this year and in the senior play she portrayed Terry McIntyre while in the junior play she was Nancy, the secretary. Dianne also won the second geometry award in her sophomore year and won the oratorical contest last year. Dianne's outside activities include being a member of the Presbyterian Church and Choir and secretary of the Presbyterian Youth Group.

Among her favorites we find: philosophy, strive for betterment, pet peeve, conformists who conform for the sake of conforming, and the sound of falling coat hangers; saying, "Sorry to hear that"; color, blue; book, "Ethan Frome" by Edith Thornton; movie, "My Fair Lady"; food, chocolate chip cookies; subject, art; hobbies, playing and listening to good music.

Next year Dianne plans to attend Mansfield State College where she will pursue an education in music. To Dianne we extend our best wishes for the future.

Purple And White

Last Friday afternoon the Andover Panthers, behind the strong pitching of Dave Thorp, defeated the Cuba Greyhounds 3-2, in a battle for second place. The Panthers got off to a good start in the second inning as Billings singled, stole second, went to third on a pass ball, and scored on an infield hit. The Greyhounds came back in the fifth to go ahead 2-1, with a pair of singles and a two run error. In the bottom of the sixth, Andover started rolling. Rosintoski and Connors both singled and each advanced a base on a passed ball. Dave Thorp hit a hard shot to the short stop. Rosintoski ran for home plate and knocked the catcher over making him lose the ball. Connors rounded third and scored the winning run as he saw the ball roll to the grandstand. The win gave Thorp his fifth in six starts.
