A donation of $1,000 has been made by First Trust Co., of Alleghany County to the Wellsville Fire Department, it was announced by

Fremasonry was introduced into the American Colonies before 1730.

Carl E. Reuning, bank president. In a letter to Lawrence W. Stannard Sr., fire department treasurer, Mr. Reuning stated: "Nothing that the citizens of our community can say or do can adequately express our appreciation for the work of our volunteer fire department. The acts of heroism and devotion to duty in spite of the dangers surrounding the fighting of a fire such as experienced at the Short's Service Station last Friday serve to point up the deep debt of gratitude we owe to our firemen."

The Wellsville Town Board, following a special meeting Monday night at the Municipal Airport agreed to authorize the resurfacing of the runway as soon as possible. Following a thorough sweeping of the runway, the highway department will haul 600 tons of stone, purchased from airport funds. The Belmont firm will patch all low areas and cover the airstrip with No. 1 stone and a new emulsion material. After this has settled for a couple of weeks, the entire surface will be sealed with an emulsion which is similar to black toning.

Special treatment consisting of a new hyperbaric oxygenation therapy unit that is being used to treat Richard Loucks, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Loucks of Cameron Mills, a community near Bath, may save this lad's life. The 10-year-old boy, was bitten by a poisonous snake and faced amputation of his ankle and foot, and is given a good chance today by doctors at Millard Fillmore Hospital of walking again in two months. "Without special treatment the ankle and foot would have to be amputated," a physician at the hospital said.
