Racetrack Rambles Cont.

According to Race Director Sam Nunis, Trenton got the first rain at about 11 p. m., Saturday and it continued throughout the night. But, when it continued Sunday morning and the airports said there was no lifting of the wet front, it became necessary to postpone for one week.

On hand when the postponement decision was announced were national NASCAR champions Rene Charland, Agawam, Mass., and Bobby Allison, Huetztown, Ala. whose trip was perhaps the longest of all.

We looked over a few of the cars that were still around getting ready for their long trek home and saw that they used huge racing slicks on all four wheels—except these had special tread designs which are probably used on asphalt tracks only. We also noticed that they had what appeared to be quick-change rear-end boxes—but when we asked the drivers about their cars—we received no useful information what-so-ever, so concluded that these boys were an entirely different breed of "cats" from the friendly drivers that we know in this area.

Well, at least the trip wasn't a total bust as we called on some friends in "Philly" and enjoyed a nice visit as well as being entertained for dinner. Bet that set some kind of record at that—700 miles by auto for a dinner engagement within the same day!
