The Greatest Pathway To Knowledge
Many times throughout life people find themselves envious of others who seem to have been blessed with an extensive amount of knowledge on not just one subject, but on a variety of subjects.

There are a number of ways reading can extend knowledge and understanding. There is no better way to improve one's vocabulary than by reading. Given a word with an unknown meaning on a blank sheet of paper, chances are a person will never guess the meaning without the assistance of a dictionary or other means.

Reading is an aid in many ways and the fact that the world is open to only those who desire to learn new ideas and those who know its past cannot be stressed enough.

This year at ACS, we have six new students. There are four in Junior High and two in Senior High.

Carroll's homeroom welcomed Tom Dolan and Mark Greig. Tommy is from Nashville, Tenn., and Mark comes from Niagara Falls, N. Y.

The seventh grade homerooms are pleased to have Marjorie and Lonni Bernhard back. They return to us from Canada.

Wellsville sends Scott Dieter to the Freshman Class. He views Andover as being "O.K." Every thing else to him is merely matter of fact. He has not decided upon his major or become interested in our school activities and sports.

Bob Wilson, a senior, came from San Jose, California. Bob is a business science major. He plans on joining the baseball and basketball teams. He is now a member of our basketball team. The Andover boys basketball team will be glad to have him back. The girls basketball team will be glad to have him back.

FHA News

The FHA got off to a promising start with its Fall Meeting last Friday. All freshmen girls who were interested in joining were present.

Steven girls endured the traditional FHA initiation on Tuesday. Katherine Court also held her night and the officers conducted the organization's service for the benefit of the new members.

We would like to welcome the new members and wish them a very enjoyable year.

8th Grade Class Officers

The 8th Grade held a class meeting to elect officers for the coming year. They were:

President - Kathy Shellman
Vice-President - Debbie Baker
Secretary - Denise Collins
Treasurer - Danny Grant
Student Council Rep. - Kathy Coraugh

They also discussed plans for a Junior Skating Party which will be held Thursday, Sept. 30, from 7 to 10 p. m., at the Wellsville Rink.
