Memorial Poppy—Symbol of Sacrifice

After World War I —

Soldiers leaving France, remembered Poppies —

"Between the crosses, row on row" —

And the plight of the War's disabled.

The months of misery they would know.

Worn to honor living Veterans

And those who died to keep us free.

The "flower of remembrance" was adopted

By the Legion and Auxiliary.

Following World War II —

Many hands were needed in our program

As V.A. hospitals opened their doors

To thousands of homecoming Veterans.

Wounded and maimed on many shores.

Another war. Still that "touch of beauty"

Was the Poppy, crimson red;

Chosen to help assist the living and memorialize the dead.

The Conflict in Korea —

Half a world from Flanders' Fields

Wherever heroic Soldiers fell

The Poppy became their symbol too

And it is still as meaningful to us

We ask that Citizens take a moment to be grateful

As our story lives a golden strand

Of sacrificial response and love

Love for our fellow man

et Nam —

Wars still rage now round the world

Taking toll of our brave young men

Can We give ONE day in the month of May?

Tell this story — again and again?

The symbolism of our Poppy red

Is clear in our members' eyes

No matter the time or place or war —

It hallowed the first great sacrifice

From Col John MacFarlane

"In Flanders' Field"

"SOUL" Group To "Ride Again"

The "Students Opposed To Unsightly Litter" Group will "ride again" in their campaign to help clean up the litter around the Andover area — both along rural roads — and along local trout streams.

The target day for the next "Clean Up" day is set for May 23 with the students planning to meet at the Market Basket parking lot by 9:00 a. m. sharp.

Their planned itinerary is to go up the Davis Hill Road, may even find an extra pair of hands to help them; then go across the road by the Andover Rod & Gun Club, and then down Joyce Hill back to Andover. Then time permitting they will start covering the banks of the local trout streams.

This time the "Soul" group has "traced" a "clean up" service. So they will bring their own lunch and bring the necessary tools to do the job.

Posters are being made up by members of the stud. group and will be placed in local business places reminding both students and parents as to the time and date.

Also a new idea is being instituted as a "Suggestion Box" will be placed in the Andover Post Office for older Citizens to place their suggestions in for this worthwhile group to read and take under consideration.

And as far as we at the Andover News are concerned, we take our hats off to the students who are really "showing that they do care" about their home-town environment. We commend them for their previous efforts and are glad to see that they have the "stick-to-it-iveness" to "follow thru" and show that their "idea" wasn't just a "flash-in-the-pan".
